Miners and Operators
Will Meet Monday in an Effort to Reach Agreement by September 1.

BY HARLAN S. MILLER.

New York, August 17.—Strong probability that a strike of anthracite miners will be averted is indicated by leaders of the miners and operators' agreement to resume their peace conference at Atlantic City Monday.

Powerful pressure from Washington resulted in the agreement to take up discussions for amicable settlement just when surface indications pointed to another break.

Announcement of the favorable decision was made in a joint letter to the United States coal commission late Friday. The coal commission convened the conference here Wednesday for the purpose of inducing the disputants to reopen discussions. Up to the time of the delivery of the letter the miners and operators had announced themselves to be absolutely deadlocked, holding that there was no new basis of discussion.

"In view of the commission's request and the public interest and apprehension, the miners and operators will, without prejudice, meet in joint session Monday next, at 11 a. m., in Atlantic City, and will earnestly endeavor to reach an agreement, by September 1," the letter stated.

Coal Commission Hopesful.
The foregoing replies to the question of the coal commission whether the conference could reach an agreement on a new contract before September 1, when the present contract expires. To the question by the commission whether or not an agreement was reached and whether in the event of failure virtual mediation would be accepted, the miners refused to make answer. These questions will be discussed at Atlantic City.

After stating the intention to resume discussions, the letter continued: "The operators urged that an understanding be reached providing that no suspension take place on September 1 in case no agreement is reached by that date and that the new agreement, when executed, be retroactive to that date. The miners asked that this matter be left to the joint conference. "The operators urged that the parties agree to arbitrate any part of the eleven demands not otherwise disposed of. The mine workers stated that this subject was superseded by the joint action in agreeing to confer."

Members of the coal commission left for Washington hopeful that the joint conference would agree upon and sign a new contract. They believe the check-off, outstanding point in dispute, would "not prove unsurmountable."

Alexander the Great
Had a Good Idea!

The famed Macedonian conqueror is said to have directed his troops in battle by means of a large megaphone-shaped device. Tradition tells us that this instrument would carry Alexander's voice as far as five miles. When he wanted something done he megaphoned his message to the troops without delay.

Many of his important victories were gained by this direct and time-saving system of direct communication.

Today Alexander's plan has been perfected for everyone's use in The Constitution's classified section.

Your wants and offers, made known through these little ads, will reach all the interested people in this city and for many miles around. You'll save time and money in the direct results that will follow.

Bill But Won't Bar
Rolling Pins.

Montgomery, Ala., August 17.—The lower house of the Alabama legislature Friday went on record for "equal rights for men," but refused to go all the way when it defeated a bill providing for abolition of rolling pins.

One bill passed, gives men, as well as women, the right to obtain divorce on grounds of cruelty.

"It is time some consideration was shown to men," said Representative David Cook, author of the bill.

On the bill to eliminate rolling pins, however, most of the solons held that in many cases they were still being employed usefully in making bread.

HOWARD IS NAMED
JUDGE OF FULTON
SUPERIOR COURTGovernor Walker Appoints Former Columbus Man, Who Managed His Gubernatorial Campaign

Judge G. H. Howard, manager of the 1922 gubernatorial campaign of Governor Clifford Walker, Friday was appointed judge of the new superior court of Fulton county, created by the 1923 general assembly.

This announcement was made from the governor's office late in the day following close on the heels of a charge by Edgar Latham, well-known Atlanta attorney and recognized as the chief opponent of Judge Howard for the position, that the latter had offered him the solicitorship of the new court.

Judge Howard declined to make immediate reply to this charge, declaring that he probably would issue a formal statement later.

Governor Walker declined to make any comment upon the situation.

Governor Not Concerned.
Peter S. Twitty, his private secretary, when informed of the charges against Judge Howard, stated that Governor Walker was in no wise concerned with the matter.

"I heard for the first time tonight," he stated, "that Mr. Latham was planning to issue such charges. The governor, of course, knew nothing and knows nothing concerning any offer Judge Howard may have made Mr. Latham. Consequently, he is not concerned in the matter and has nothing to say concerning it."

"However, were I called upon to make a personal comment, I would hazard the statement that any proposition Judge Howard may have made Mr. Latham was made in good faith and on sound principles."

Allegations of an offer made to him in June by Mr. Howard on condition of his staying out of the race for the judicial position, were made by Mr. Latham, who asserted that Judge Howard told him that he would have Mr. Latham made solicitor general if he would agree to having Solicitor General John A. Boykin being made judge.

Latham Rejects Offer.
Mr. Latham stated that he rejected the offer and that Howard then entered the race for judge purely out of spite for him and to embarrass Governor Walker.

"When I refused to entertain his proposition," said Mr. Latham, he entered the race for judge purely for spite and to embarrass Governor Walker. Previously to that time Judge Howard had said that he favored me for the judgeship. I had the impression of practically every member of the Atlanta Bar association, while he did not have."

Mr. Latham said that in a long conference which he had with Governor

More Charming Contenders for "Miss Atlanta's" Crown
Enter Names in Constitution's Beauty TournamentPretty Girls Urged To Qualify for National Tournament—Only Four Days Left.

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

Somewhere in Atlanta does a rose bloom unseen and unappreciated? Or are the charms of some unrecognized belle of the "Gate City of Dixie" not accorded the full meed of praise they deserve?

If such persons exist, The Constitution wants to find them.

The search for "Miss Atlanta" is on—for the girl who will represent Atlanta at the national beauty tournament at Atlantic City on September 5 and compete against reigning beauties of a hundred North American cities for the crown of "Miss America—the nation's most beautiful girl."

Entries Numerous.

Entries in The Constitution's beauty tournament to select "Miss Atlanta" have been numerous, and every indication is that the girl selected from the bevy of lovely entrants will be a strong contender for the scepter of the beauty queen.

But still—other beautiful girls are urged to enter.

The high standard of the contest has been fully demonstrated. Daughters of the most prominent families of Atlanta have entered, assured that no embarrassment will befall them and that the event will be conducted throughout on the high plane maintained by The Constitution in all events it sponsors.

Meets of the charming girls whose names are entered have been accumulating on Page 10, Column 4.

Pretty Atlanta Girl
In Police Chief's Office

Claiming that her parents had mistreated her, Maggie Bedford, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bedford, of 7 Oliver street, late Friday afternoon made four attempts to end her life in the Atlanta police station.

The young girl went to the office of James L. Beavers, police chief, and declared that she had been mistreated and that she had come there because she did not know where else to go.

Chief Beavers turned to the telephone to communicate with the parents of the girl when she leaped on the window sill of the chief's office with the avowed intention of jumping to the ground. Chief Beavers dropped the telephone and rushed to the window in time to stop her.

When he returned to put the telephone in order again, she again mounted the sill, and the chief had to rescue her again. She was put in charge of the Chief Matron, Mrs. Bullard, and attempted to jump from the window of the matron's ward. She afterwards drew a razor from concealment and said that she would end her life in that manner, but Mrs. Bullard took the razor away from her.

Later, when her parents arrived, she was quieted and returned home with them.

ACCUSE HARRIS

Out of Danger.

Memphis, Tenn., August 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Calvin Harris, 41, railroad switchman arrested today as a suspect in the poisoning of Mrs. H. G. Anderson, and John Macon, five-year-old boy, who became violently ill after eating a piece of candy, from a box sent to the house by an unidentified man, was docketed on a charge of "assault to commit first degree murder by administering poison."

Police investigating the affair tonight while continuing their examination of Harris, were informed by local pharmacist that he had sold Harris the poison yesterday when the man told him he wished to use it to kill a dog. Harris had inquired the best means of using the poison to end the animal's life, the druggist declared.

Harris, formerly a roomer at Mrs. Anderson's house while the woman was a widow, before her marriage to Anderson, a railroad engineer. After the marriage Anderson had ejected him from the home, Harris told authorities today.

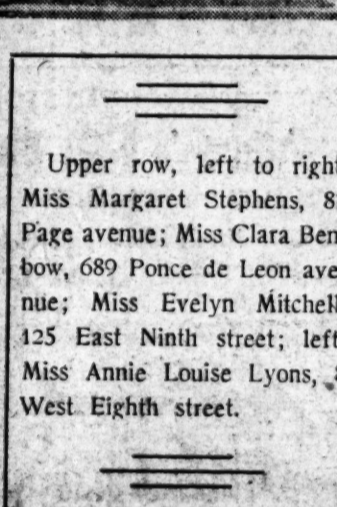

Rigid questioning of Harris was continued late tonight by police officers who sought a motive for the alleged act of their prisoner.

Hospital attendants said tonight that both victims of the poison had rallied under treatment and practically are out of danger.

To Erect Memorial To President Harding

San Francisco, August 17.—A campaign was opened here Friday to raise $500,000 for a memorial to President Harding, as a token of regard to the memory of the late president, who died here August 2.

The memorial will probably be a temple or shrine, rather than a statue. A scenic boulevard now being built along the bay is to be named "Warren Gamaliel Harding boulevard."

Ovation Winner
Praises TourneyTrip of Miss Frances Gurr, Central City Beauty, Described.

Macon, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) Atlanta girls who are contemplating entering the Atlantic City tournament for the selection of America's most beautiful girl need have no fear that they will receive any but the most courteous treatment or that they will not be shown every respect due a young woman honored by her home city as its representative for national honors.

Miss Frances Gurr, who was "Miss Macon" in last year's contest, who was ranked fourth in the national contest, and who was among the first ten in the rolling chair review, was enthusiastic over the reception accorded her. Miss Gurr has been in Europe since the contest closed last year, having accompanied Mrs. Robert Smith, of Macon, and Mrs. Willis Ambler, of New York, abroad.

While she was in Atlantic City last year during the national pageant, she wired friends in Macon: "I am the happiest girl in the world today. I feel exactly like a queen having all these honors thrust upon me. I think Atlantic City, next to my home town, is the most wonderful place I have ever seen. Everyone has been so kind to me and are doing more than their share to make me happy. And I will say that they have succeeded. I am having the time of my life and am being royally entertained by everyone with whom I have been associated since my arrival here."

Delighted With Event.
After the close of the contest, in which Miss Gurr was awarded fourth place, she wired home, "I will always regret that Macon people were not here to see for themselves."

In the bathing revue, in which Miss Gurr was ranked fourth, she wore a maroon-colored Annette Kellerman over black tights, with black shoes and stockings and a maroon bandana over her hair.

In the rolling chair parade, she Threatening Letter.

Tulsa, Okla., August 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Martial law, which has been in effect in the city of Tulsa since last Tuesday, was extended early tonight in the southern portion of Tulsa county, including the towns of Red Fork and Broken Arrow, scene of recent floggings.

The order enlarging the area of military occupation, signed by Adjutant General B. H. Markham, followed closely the arrest of ten men today at Jenks. No additional troops will be called, Adjutant General Markham said.

Oklahoma City, Okla., August 17.—An anonymous letter threatening Governor Walton unless troops immediately are withdrawn from Tulsa, was received at the executive offices today, according to an announcement from Aldrich Blake, the governor's counselor.

"Unless troops are withdrawn at once your fate will be the same as the others," Blake said the letter read.

Blake said much of the contents of the letter was unprintable. He declined to divulge the name of the place at which it was posted, explaining that it might handicap the state investigators in their search for the writer.

PAVING PROGRAM
PLANNED FOR CITYWork on Fifty Different Projects Made Possible
by Amendment of Baby
Bond Paving Ordinance.TEN PER CENT FEATURE DECLARED NOT NEEDED$240,000 Already Appropriated for Fund Must Remain in Treasury Until 1933.

Preparation for the biggest street paving program in the history of Atlanta, involving immediately fifty different projects to cost more than a half million dollars, were made Friday by the street committee of city council following official word from the state capital that the omnibus charter revision bill had passed, repealing the 10 per cent maintenance feature of the baby bond paving plan.

Other charter changes were to authorize one more bank as city depository, the bank to be designated by council in addition to present depositories to charge fees for issuing building permits; to empower the city to build sewer connections up to the property line and assess property owners for the cost; to empower council to designate a registrar for all voters in city elections instead of making the county tax collector registrar.

Ten Per Cent Feature.
The 10 per cent feature of the baby bond plan had been the object of criticism since shortly after its adoption two years ago. It compelled the city to appropriate 10 per cent of the total amount of each paving contract let and to deposit that money in the city treasury for ten years, to serve as a guarantee to property owners that the street would be maintained in good condition.

When the city found itself in straitened circumstances at the beginning of this year, it reduced its appropriation for the guarantee fund to $41,000, enough to legalize the paving of less than half the streets for which property owners petitioned and for which property owners agreed to pay in full. Forty petitions, it was found, would have to go over until next year before any attention could be paid to them at all, unless the 10 per cent provision were repealed by the assembly.

Ten Contracts Awarded.
Ten new street paving contracts are to be awarded by council Monday.

J. G. CARPENTER
NOT MAN JAILED
IN NEWMAN CASE

The Constitution has been advised that Julian Glenn Carpenter, of Newnan, was not arrested in connection with the murder of Millard Trouton, of that city, as was stated through error in a recent issue. It was learned Friday that Mr. Carpenter is in the west prominently connected in business, and was not involved in the affair in any way.

Mr. Carpenter's name was furnished The Constitution by a Newnan citizen with the confirmation of his statement by several others of that city.

The Constitution's representative was told by another resident of Newnan Thursday night that he had been misinformed, whereupon he questioned the parties from which he obtained Mr. Carpenter's name, and they declared that the man's name was Julian Glenn Carpenter, "a local lumberman."

Sheriff S. P. Carpenter, who is investigating the murder, refused Thursday night to furnish the name of the arrested man to The Constitution. Several parties knowing this volunteered to furnish the name, giving it as Julian Glenn Carpenter.

OFFICER STIGALL

W. H. Hames, Private Detective, Killed — J. H. Kirk and Ernest Stanton Wounded.

OFFICER EXONERATED
BY POLICE COMMITTEE

Victims Had Planned a Trap for Stigall and Threatened to 'Get Him,' Claims Armistead.

Following a heated argument over whisky raids conducted without warrants, E. C. Stigall, head of the police vice squad, shot and fatally wounded W. H. Hames, private detective, and wounded J. H. Kirk, policeman, discharged for alleged protection to bootleggers, and Ernest Stanton, investigator in the law office of Captain W. S. Coburn, at the corner of Houston and Courtland streets early Friday evening.

The police committee of city council, in session an hour after the shooting, passed a resolution completely exonerating Stigall for blame in the shooting and commending him for doing his duty. The resolution was passed after Jesse Armistead, chairman of the committee, had declared that he was convinced that the three wounded men were mortal enemies of Stigall and that Hames had told him Thursday that "he intended to get Stigall one way or another."

"He should be praised for his marksmanship," said Armistead.

Hames was shot twice through the abdomen and suffered one minor wound; Kirk was shot twice through the left arm, one bullet breaking the bone; Stanton suffered a minor flesh wound from a sixth bullet. Stigall had fired his revolver.

Hames died at a nearby hospital about midnight. No move will be made to arrest Stigall for the homicide, investigation by Jesse Armistead, chairman of the police committee, and Ed Stephens, assistant solicitor-general, having indicated that the shooting was justifiable.

Stigall Friday night was continuing his work as head of the vice squad and was said at police station to be out on a raid at the time Hames died.

Hames, it was brought out at the police committee meeting, had visited Armistead, W. G. Cooper and J. A. Beall, members of the committee, and had accused Stigall of protecting several bootleggers and misappropriating whisky he had seized from others.

Hames, Kirk and Stanton had laid plans to prove that Stigall was crooked, they told Armistead Thursday. They were shot down by Stigall before they had gone through with their alleged plans.

These three men came to my office Thursday," Armistead told the committee, "and told me that they knew that Officer Stigall and his partner were crooked and that they could prove it Friday night if I would go with them to a certain place where whisky could be found in a garage can at the rear of a store. They told me

MEXICO ENTERED NO PACT, SAYS OREGON

Washington, August 17.—The Mexican embassy today made public a statement by President Obregon saying that should diplomatic relations between the United States and Mexico be resumed as a result of the Mexico City conference, it "will not be due to any obligations contracted, nor to any agreements which have been entered into for the purpose of resuming diplomatic relations, nor to anything that might contravene our laws or the rules of international law."

In the event the Mexican government is recognized by the United States, President Obregon's statement adds, "Such a happy event should be attributed, as far as these conferences are concerned, to the ability and patriotism of our own commissioners to explain, and to the generous broad-mindedness, free from any unwise prejudices, of the eminent American commissioners to understand the fundamental problems that Mexico is now facing, namely the economic and moral betterment of the people in harmony with the developments of foreign interests invested in the country."

The full text of President Obregon's statement follows:

"The work of the American-Mexican commission, constituted by Honorable Mr. Charles B. Warren and Mr. John B. Payne as representatives of the president of the United States, and Mr. Ramon Ross and Mr. Fernando Gonzalez Roa, as my own representatives in my capacity of president of Mexico, having been concluded, it is now my duty to inform the country regarding the manner in which that work was carried out, and its significance. To that end I wish to make the following statements:

"First: The work of the Mexican-American commission, which was begun on the 14th of May, last, and ended the 15th, ultimo, was confined to views and information regarding the difficulties which up to the present time have been obstacles to the resumption of diplomatic relations between the two governments.

"Second, the Mexican commission, after hearing the American point of view in every case, but without entering into any discussion intended to modify our present laws, offered explanations of those parts of our laws relating to American interests in Mexico in connection with the oil and the agrarian question only; and they also explained the manner which the present government, in pursuance of its original policy, has been endeavoring to conciliate with the principles of international law, the revolutionary ideals now embodied in our laws."

GROUP TO HANDLE PARK FUND NAMED

Giving assurance that every precaution has been taken in order to insure a wise and judicious expenditure of the money that will accrue from the proposed issue of $2,000,000, the backers of the Central Park campaign have given out the list of prominent citizens who will have charge of this fund and who will see to its expenditure.

"If anyone should have entertained the least doubt as to the judicious use of this proposed fund," said Levi W. Reeves, campaign manager for Central Park, "I am certain that this doubt will be dispelled when it is seen that this money will be placed in the hands of a splendid body of citizens and patriots who will use it only to the best possible advantage. It is the purpose of the backers of the Central Park project to procure the very best value possible for the city in the proposed raising of money for the various community playgrounds for the various communities, and the body of citizens who have been chosen to handle the bond money will surely see that the people and the city get the best possible deal in every instance."

The following list of Atlanta men and women, representing each ward, and five members of the commission from the city at large, will have charge of the expenditure of the $2,000,000, if authorized by the people on September 5.

Judge John S. Candler, T. C. Carraway, George Gershon, Major R. J. Quinn, Mrs. S. B. Turman, R. C. Lieb, J. W. Mayson, Dr. W. E. Chandler, George B. Moore, Walter G. Cooper, Frank M. Hunan, Lee Ashcraft, Charles T. Bailey, L. L. Marbut, E. E. Wachendorf.

Many enthusiastic letters were received Friday from citizens and a number of callers presented themselves at the office of the campaign headquarters, giving their heartfelt endorsement to the Central Park.

Legion Indorses Prohibition.

Mason City, Iowa, August 17.—A resolution endorsing prohibition was passed without opposition by the state convention of the American Legion here late Friday. The convention also resolved that recognition of Russia would be "un-American."

Outing for Miller Company Workers To Be Given Today

The first annual picnic and reunion of the working forces of the G. L. Miller company will be held today near the playground and swimming pool at Oakland City. The event will be attended by the fifty or more members of the Atlanta office staff, with their families, making a total Atlanta representation of about 250 people in addition to several workers from Memphis, Knoxville and other local offices in southern cities.

The picnic, according to information given out by the company, will be held at three o'clock this afternoon, the party gathering at that time at the swimming pool, after which a watermelon cutting and a social period will be indulged in. Later in the evening a sumptuous feast will be served, the feature of which will be Georgia barbecue meats of various kinds.

Mrs. Grace Simpkinson and Miss Sallie Parrish, assisted by E. C. Rupley, will be masters of ceremony and hosts of the event, seeing that everyone is made welcome and that all are given a good time. G. M. Goodlin is also on the committee of arrangements. A swimming party, which will be one of the finest features of the occasion, will follow the barbecue, and this event will bring the program to a close.

In addition to members of the G. L. Miller force from other southern cities, it is expected that General Salesmanager Gifford, of the New York office will be among the notable out-of-town guests. G. L. Miller, head of the big bond concern was compelled to return to the metropolis the early part of the week and could not attend the reunion.

"This is the initial picnic, or reunion that the company expects to give its force in Atlanta every year," said C. A. Lasalle, "and we want to make it an affair that will be of the greatest pleasure and benefit to all present."

PREPARE FOR START OF BOSWORTH MEET

A preliminary meeting of the Bosworth evangelistic campaign was held Friday night in the Gospel Tabernacle at 79 Capitol avenue.

A large choir was organized by B. B. Bosworth.

Evangelist F. F. Bosworth delivered a short message on "The Unchangeable Christ."

The campaign proper will begin on Sunday, with three services, at 11 o'clock in the morning, one afternoon service at 3 and another at 7:45.

Mrs. Stokes Strikes Weddy for Million As Character Balm

Chicago, August 17.—A praecipe is a suit for $1,000,000 damages was filed here Friday by attorneys for Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes against W. B. D. Stokes, Jr., son of the New York millionaire horseman and hotel owner, who was divorced by Mrs. Stokes some time ago.

Weddy, the son, was originally named as a co-respondent in a divorce bill brought against his beautiful wife by his father. He is a stepson of Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, about 29 years old, and a graduate of the University of Chicago law school. Although Mrs. Stokes' attorneys refused to divulge details, the suit is understood to charge defamation of character. Mrs. Stokes left for New York immediately after the filing of the praecipe.

HEARING IS STARTED IN KIDNAPING CASE

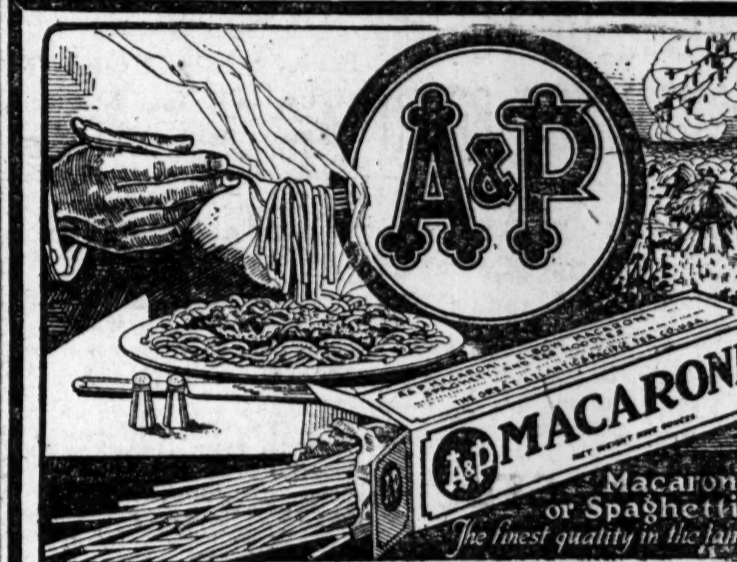

Mosbach, Baden, August 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Preliminary examination of Hooven Grifffs, Victor Neilsen and Prince Gagarin, arrested after the recent attempt to kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdall, began here today under the direction of County Attorney Trautwein. Herr Trautwein was also the public prosecutor in the cases against Carl Neuf and Franz Zimmer, implicated in the Bergdall kidnapping episode in 1921.

The preliminaries will probably consume several days, and until they are completed the prisoners will not be allowed to communicate with anyone. It is expected formal charges will be filed against all three and they will then be permitted to engage American counsel. In case of their failure to do so the court will assign an attorney to the defense.

The picturesque courthouse where the hearing is being held was originally a church. It was built in the sixteenth century and is the principal attraction of this sleepy, quaint little Badenese village of 5,000 souls on the banks of the Neckar river.

COTTON FIRM HEADS OPPOSE EXTRADITION

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Columbia, S. C., August 17.—Attorneys representing Frank H. Barrett and the three other members of the Augusta cotton firm of Barrett & Company, Inc., charged with obtaining property by false pretenses in Aiken county, through R. Beverly Herbert, a Columbia lawyer, filed a request at Governor McLeod's office today for a hearing before the governor before he issues requisition papers for the defendants in the proceedings.

Formal request for requisition papers was made to the attorney general of South Carolina this morning by W. M. Smoak, Aiken attorney, in person.

Mr. Smoak, who represents C. R. Lybrand, of Wagener, S. C., the plaintiff in the proceedings, went into conference with John M. Daniel, assistant attorney general, immediately after his arrival here. The attorney introduced the affidavit of Lybrand, sworn out August 11 before Magistrate W. B. Raborn, of Aiken, in support of his petition for requisition papers.

Claim Technical Visit.
The defendants named in the Lybrand warrant are Frank H. Barrett, Julian Barrett, Thomas Barrett, Jr., Thomas Getzen and Barrett & Company, Inc.

Requisition is sought, Mr. Smoak said this morning, on the grounds that Julian Barrett and Thomas Barrett, Jr., representing themselves and the other defendants named, laid all of them open to prosecution in South Carolina by coming to Wagener in this state and inducing Lybrand to consign his cotton to the Barrett warehouses. Under the law of this state, he said, the defendants, Frank H. Barrett and Getzen, who did not come upon South Carolina soil, were constructively present, and he contends they are legally subject to trial in this state.

Lybrand Charges Fraud.
The warrant sworn out by Lybrand alleges that he was defrauded of $13,507 as a result of being induced to ship a quantity of cotton to the Barrett warehouse in Augusta, that the representations of the defendants in regard to the strength and financial security of their corporation and warehouses were made "with the intention to cheat and defraud" and that they "thereafter positively and absolutely refused to pay" for the cotton, "although admitting they owed for same." It is further alleged in the warrant that "in truth and fact the defendants were at the time insolvent and financially unable to pay."

OGLETHORPE EXPECTS RECORD ENROLLMENT
When Oglethorpe university opens the fall session on September 26, it will be with the largest attendance that the institution has ever had. Oglethorpe began her career in the fall of 1918 with an enrollment of between forty and fifty students, all in the freshman class. The following year another class was added, and so on until the four classes were in regular session.

During the war the attendance first diminished towards the vanishing point, then, suddenly, during the S. A. T. C. days, reached nearly three hundred. When the war closed the college found it necessary to build up a new student body, beginning with 103 in January, 1919. Since that time there has been a rapid increase in the student body, until today more than 300 students have registered for the coming year. This is the limit of the present capacity of the institution and is one cause for the immediate and pressing need of the campaign for $150,000 which is now on to increase the facilities of the institution and enlarge its capacity.

With the successful consummation of this campaign it is expected that the student capacity of the institution will reach more than 500 and the efficiency of the class work be doubled. There will probably be something like 125 young men and women attending Oglethorpe by trolley, automobile or steam railway as day students. The remaining 175 will be the boarding capacity of the university and will be accommodated on or near the campus.

Buses of London carried 85,000, 000 more passengers in 1922 than in the previous year.

Woman and Child Ill From Eating Poisoned Candy

Memphis, Tenn., August 17.—Mrs. W. C. Anderson, 35, and John Mason, 5 years old, hurried to a hospital today when they were taken violently ill, were in a critical condition this afternoon from the effects of having eaten what is said to have been poisoned candy sent to the Mason home by an unidentified man.

According to hospital attendants an analysis of the candy showed that it contained poison.

A negro youth who told the police that he was accused by a man and asked to deliver the candy to the Mason home was taken into custody for questioning.

The negro is said to have declared that he did not know who the man was. According to his story he was told by the man he would pay him for the errand when he returned to the corner near the Mason home where he was engaged to deliver the package. When he returned the man had disappeared.

Both Mrs. Anderson, wife of a railroad employee, and the child became ill after they had eaten one piece of the confection. The police reported that the candy was of a common chocolate cream variety and the box in which it was packed bore the label of a prominent downtown store.

Members of both the Mason and Anderson families said they knew no enemies who might have sent the candy.

Attorney General
Launches Inquiry
On Gasoline Price
Investigation of the prices charged for gasoline in Georgia has been started by Attorney General George Napier, it was announced Friday.

Conferees between the attorney general, jobbers, retail dealers and all other persons directly interested in the oil business have been held and are scheduled during the next week, it was stated.

Mr. Napier declares he has informed Governor Walker that he is acting on his instructions to conduct the investigation and intended to use the authority of his office to its fullest extent in determining whether fair prices are being charged for gasoline in the state.

GOVERNOR WALKER ISSUED ORDERS for the investigation several days ago in line with similar action taken by other state executives.

BODY OF JAMES L. RAY TAKEN TO NASHVILLE
The body of James L. Ray, who died from blood poisoning Thursday, was taken Friday morning to Nashville, Tenn., the writer's former home, for funeral services and interment.

Mr. Ray was the associate sporting editor of The Atlanta Journal. The body was accompanied to Nashville by Mr. Ray's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Nichols, of 2 Riple drive, his uncle and aunt and Morgan Blake, sporting editor of The Journal.

Mr. Ray had been with The Journal since January of this year, coming here from The Nashville Banner, where he began his newspaper career. Awtry & Lowndes in charge.

"DEVIL'S GRIPPE" ENDEMIC SPREADS IN EAST VIRGINIA

Richmond, Va., August 17.—"Devil's grippie" endemic in the eastern section of Virginia, now is threatening to spread to the valley region, Dr. Emmon G. Williams, state health commissioner, announced today.

Fifty cases are now under treatment in Richmond, Dr. Williams stated, and a total of 400 cases have been reported to the state health department thus far.

Every resource of the state and city health departments and the Academy of Medicine is being used to determine the organism of "devil's grippie" declared Dr. E. C. L. Miller, member of a special committee appointed to study the malady, as no control can be effected until its source is known.

The disease is decidedly contagious, physicians declare, and no means will be spared in the efforts to isolate its germ.

"Devil's grippie" made its first and only appearance in Virginia before this summer in 1888, when the outbreak of a malady similar to the present one was described by Dr. W. C. Dabney, professor of medicine at the University of Virginia by that name. The disease causes much suffering and victims agree that the name "devil's grippie" is none too strong in describing it.

MRS. CALVIN COOLIDGE IN KNITTING CONTEST
New York, August 17.—Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, wife of the president, is one of several thousand women sitting on the anxious seat awaiting the result of a knitting contest conducted by a Philadelphia yarn manufacturer.

Mrs. Coolidge knitted her entry, a white baby carriage robe, while she was summering, as wife of the vice president, at their home in Northampton, Mass. The robe, about a yard square and lined with pink crepe de Chine, is of plain knitted stitch, with three panels of lace stitch-knitted of the yarn.

Winners in the contest will be announced August 24. A total of $11,000 in prizes is to be awarded, $2,000 for the first prize, $500 for the second and $200 for third, and a long list of smaller sums.

Famed Dreyfus Case Recalled by Death Of Major Esterhazy

London, August 17.—Newspaper reports of the death at Harpenden, England, of Major Count Ferdinand Esterhazy, author of the famous "Bordeaux" story, upon the strength of which Captain Alfred Dreyfus was convicted of espionage in France a quarter of a century ago, recalled here today the sensational incidents of the famous French scandal.

Major Esterhazy, buried last May as Count de Voillemeant, had lived in England since 1898, and came to this country in that year after it had been known that he and not Dreyfus had written the memorandum found in the French foreign office, of documents which had been sent to Berlin.

This notation in a hand similar to that of the captain, was the only evidence offered against Dreyfus, although he denied having written it, he was found guilty, degraded and sentenced to life imprisonment on Devil's island, a French penal colony off the South American coast. This was in 1894.

In the public indignation that followed the trial, suggested greatly by Emile Zola's famous letter, "J'accuse," which exposed an alleged conspiracy against Dreyfus—Colonel Georges Picquart of the French general staff, discovered that Esterhazy had been the real author. The major was brought to trial, but was acquitted. However, when it became evident that Dreyfus would be eventually exonerated, Esterhazy fled to England. Early in 1899 he told the story of his part in the affair to a British journalist, and then went into retirement under an assumed name.

Meanwhile, Dreyfus, supported by a strong faction of popular opinion, notably renubian, was granted a new trial. He was again found guilty, but his conviction was ultimately annulled and he was readmitted into the French army, receiving a major's commission.

ORGANIST SHELTON TO GIVE RECITAL

Charles A. Sheldon, Jr., city organist, will give an organ recital Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, at the city auditorium.

Following Dr. Sheldon's summer custom, the program will consist largely of light melodious selections. Program—"Allegro Giubilante," "Prelude," "Chant de Bonheur," "Lament," "Midsummer Caprice," "Johnston," "Nocturne," "Dithyramb," "Queen of Sheba," "Gounod," "Evensong," "Johnston," "Improvisation."

The complaint was filed by Stacey Denny, father of Philip Denny, boy friend of James Wright, the 15-year-old pupil who was found hanging in a solitary confinement cage at the school Wednesday morning.

Two of the boys testified they saw John Cooy, a pupil, beaten with a board by Davis after the latter had tied the boy's hands and feet and

COURT ORDERS PROBE OF CHICAGO SCHOOL

Chicago, August 17.—A complaint charging Fred E. Smith, suspended principal of the Parental School for Truants, and instructors A. R. Davis and Timothy Shea and two others named as John and Mary Doe, charging assault with intent to kill, precipitated a public hearing today before Chief Justice McKinley, sitting as an examining magistrate.

The complaint was filed by Stacey Denny, father of Philip Denny, boy friend of James Wright, the 15-year-old pupil who was found hanging in a solitary confinement cage at the school Wednesday morning.

Two of the boys testified they saw John Cooy, a pupil, beaten with a board by Davis after the latter had tied the boy's hands and feet and

The boy witnesses said it was a frequent occurrence for other boys to be chastised by instructors to beat runaway or unruly boys and that many of them were locked in the guard room, one for 21 days.

The court ordered a committee of physicians to examine the boys to determine whether their health had been damaged from drinking milk from tubercular cows at the school.

stuffed a rag in his mouth to prevent him screaming. Similar punishment was meted out to boys who were insubordinate or who ran away. The boy witnesses said it was a frequent occurrence for other boys to be chastised by instructors to beat runaway or unruly boys and that many of them were locked in the guard room, one for 21 days.

The court ordered a committee of physicians to examine the boys to determine whether their health had been damaged from drinking milk from tubercular cows at the school.

LORILLARD DESERTED WIFE, DIVORCE CHARGE
Philadelphia, August 17.—Jacob Lorillard, nephew of Pierre Lorillard, the New York tobacco manufacturer, was today sued for divorce.

His wife, who was Miss Effie M. Howard, of Philadelphia, and whom he married in 1897, alleges in her petition that her 56-year-old husband deserted her in 1921. Lorillard is a grandfather. He has been making his home in Palm Beach.

PRIESTS ESCAPE FROM BANDITS

Hankow, China, August 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Rev. Michael McGilgan and the Rev. Daniel Ward, Catholic priests, who were kidnapped Thursday at Tsao-shih by Chinese bandits who looted the town, have made their escape, according to reports received here early today. It was said the priests disguised themselves in Chinese clothes and eluded their captors.

The latest reports from Tsao-shih indicated that the bandits burned the London mission hospital and its adjoining building instead of the Catholic hospital. The first accounts of the bandit raid told of the burning of the Catholic institution.

With the escape of the two priests it now is believed the bandits have no other foreign captives, although they are holding more than 100 Chinese prisoners.

Kiel Canal Open To All Nations, Is Court Ruling

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Hague, August 17.—The permanent court of international justice today handed down a decision against Germany in the case involving the use of the Kiel Canal by foreign vessels. The court decided that Germany's authorities were not justified in preventing the British steamer Wimbledon, from entering the canal in 1921 during the hostilities between Poland and Russia, and that Germany would make compensation.

The Wimbledon case is the first in which the world court was asked for a definite judgment. It grew out of the refusal of Germany to allow the Wimbledon chartered by a French company and crewed by British sailors, to pass through the Kiel Canal, Germany declared that to do so would violate her own regulations regarding neutrality.

In Line With Treaty.
The treaty of Versailles, provided that the Kiel canal shall be open to the war and merchant vessels of all nations at peace with Germany. The Berlin government in the face of various protests maintained its position but invited the allied nations to take the case before the tribunal provided by the treaty of Versailles, the permanent court of international justice. The judgment rendered today says the government is bound to make good the loss sustained by the vessel and her charterers as a result of Germany's action, and that the damages at 140,749 francs with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, reckoned from the date of the judgment. The amount is to be paid to the French government in francs within three months from today. Each party to the suit stands its own costs.

Germany On Bench.
The court ruling upon the case was composed of eleven members with the addition of Dr. Walter Schuecking, of Germany, who was appointed by the German government to sit on the bench under the rule of the court that if any party to an action has no judge of its own nationality in the court, it may appoint one to sit in any specific case in which it is invited.

Signor Anzilotti of Italy, and Max Huber, of Switzerland, and the German appointed Judge, Dr. Schuecking, submitted that they were unable to concur in the judgment. They have handed in separate opinions under the right conferred by article 57 of the court's statutes.

Wheat Storage Plan Delayed Pending Act Of Secretary Wallace

Chicago, August 17.—The American farm bureau, federation is not aware that any credit banks have loaned money on wheat stored in government warehouses; nor does it know of any instance where the department of agriculture has licensed warehouses for this purpose, as provided by the intermediate credit bank act, officials at the national headquarters here said Friday.

This statement followed an announcement in Washington by Gray Silver, federation representative, that Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota farmers are storing wheat in this manner to await an increase in price.

The farm bureau plan to store 200,000,000 bushels of the grain can not be put in operation until the government defines what constitutes a licensed warehouse, it was said.

Having been delayed by the absence from Washington of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, the death of President Harding and the change at the white house, this has not been done, in so far as is known here. The farm bureau is pressing Secretary Wallace for a ruling, however.

Farmers have taken advantage of other provisions of the farm law, it was said, a total of $2,000,000 having been let out as direct loans or through redemptions.

Negro Is Hanged.
Griffin, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) John Henry Walker, colored, was hanged here today at 11:52 o'clock. He was pronounced dead by physicians in twenty-two minutes. He was hanged for the murder of Frank Epps, another negro, on March 1, 1922. Walker held a small Bible in his hands, which he never turned loose.

Cuba Must Curb Local Friction Is U. S. Dictum

Washington, August 17.—The United States is going to hold Cuba strictly to the promises it made some months ago to reform its internal administration. Continuing disturbance in the islands, which has been injurious to the interests of Americans there, must come to an end. This emphatic position of the new administration was made known at the white house Friday when it was said that the government will take whatever steps are necessary to protect the rights of Americans there, if amicable efforts now being made to bring order in Cuba do not meet with sufficient cooperation.

Affairs have been troubled in the island for several months, and General Knoch H. Crowder, American ambassador, who returned here recently, has laid a detailed report before Secretary of State Hughes, who has gone over the entire situation with President Coolidge.

There are now two outstanding conditions of reform:

1. Legislation by the Cuban legislature in the face of disapproval of this government;
2. Legislation now pending, which would close several ports from which American concerns ship sugar and fruits.

Governor Parker, Klan's Chief Enemy, Cheered by Knights

New Orleans, August 17.—Governor John M. Parker, who last winter announced he had "dedicated himself to tearing the mask off the Ku Klux Klan," and who was responsible for the Morehouse parish investigations, came in personal contact with three passenger-carloads of klansmen in full regalia at Gloucester, Miss., last night, and after conversation with them, was given a lustrous cheer by the klansmen, according to a story printed today in The New Orleans Item.

The governor was in a coach, almost alone, en route to Baton Rouge, when robed and hooded klansmen in large numbers boarded the train at Gloucester en route to a naturalization ceremony at Centerville, the story said.

Word spread among the masked men that the governor was on the train and as many as could crowd into the coach where the governor was seated.

The train conductor tried to prevent the figures from entering the coach, but he was brushed aside. One of the klansmen approached the governor and inquired:

"Aren't you John Parker?"

"That's my name," replied the governor.

"Well, stand up and let the boys get a look at you," suggested the masked figure.

"I'll be very glad to do that," retorted Mr. Parker, and rose, confronting the press of white figures that continued to shove into the coach.

"Well, what do you think of us now?" asked one of the klansmen after a moment of mutual inspection.

"Just exactly what I've always thought of you," retorted the governor, "and if you'll take off your masks, I'll be glad to tell you more in detail."

There was a moment of astonished silence, broken by the terrified voice of a child, crying out:

"Oh, mamma, what are they going to do with the man?"

Finally the klansman who had first addressed the governor, reached up and lifted the tall white peak mask from his head. He was grinning broadly.

"Now, do you know me?" he asked.

"Of course I do," replied the governor, calling him by name. And they shook hands heartily.

From then on it was more like a family reunion than a truce between two enemies. One after another the klansmen unmasked, revealing among their number quite a few of the governor's personal acquaintances with whom the governor chatted until the masked assembly left the train at Centerville.

"As the train drew in near the station, the leader of the klansmen spoke:

"Let's give the governor a cheer."

"What's the matter with John Parker?"

And in response the members of the Ku Klux Klan, which Governor Parker has denounced and opposed at every opportunity, cheered him heartily.

DICE GAME ALIBI IS LIFE SAVER IN MURDER CASE

Dallas, Texas, August 17.—The clicking of dice always has been music to the ears of Joe Shirley, his friends declare.

Shirley owed his life to this inbred love of "alley tennis" Friday.

Accused of the murder of Alonzo McClellan, a Dallas grocer, Shirley was freed by a jury after 24 hours' deliberation. His counsel proved that Shirley was by the side of Willie Moore, and both were pleading for a "natural" in a game when the murder was committed.

JENKINS IS INDORSED

Seventh Ward Meeting Favors Incumbent.

More than 100 people attended the seventh ward caucus Friday night, and though the avowed purpose of the meeting was to select a candidate to oppose Councilman Jenkins, incumbent, he was endorsed as the official candidate of the ward with but one dissenting vote.

It was announced early in the afternoon that the meeting would be broken up by the arrival of a police to prevent a squabble as to who was present with instructions to allow the meeting if there was no disorder. Murray Jackson presided. No disorder was reported.

NEW ORDER PLANS TO BORE WITHIN

Kane, Pa., August 17.—A blazing blood red circle on the eastern limits of Kane marked the inception of the "Knights of the Blazing Ring," which is opposed to all clans and klans and aims to "ring the earth with blazing justice to all."

The fiery hoop, burned on a large meadow outside the city. It was fully 30 feet in diameter and made of red signal lights such as are used on railroads.

A letter received by a Kane newspaper Friday explained the intent of the new order. It follows:

"We are enemies of clans and klans. We believe in liberty for every human being, black, white or yellow, regardless of race, religion or creed. We work within and do not cover our faces."

"Within six months the world will know of the Knights of the Blazing Ring."

CLAIM BIG OIL FIRE INCENDIARY

San Pedro, Cal., August 17.—The fire which started early today when a 500,000-barrel tank of the General Petroleum company burst into flames after an explosion, subsided at least temporarily shortly after 10 o'clock tonight after causing damage estimated at $1,000,000 and establishing itself as one of the worst in the history of the oil industry. J. L. Martin, superintendent of pipe lines for the company, said he believed the fire was of incendiary origin.

TWO ARE INJURED WHEN LIQUOR CAR HITS AUTOMOBILE

Police Friday night were still searching for two unidentified white men supposed to have been occupants of a liquor car that figured in a head-on collision Thursday night with a taxi driven by Eli Davis, of 332 Woodward avenue. The accident occurred at the intersection of Richardson and Martin streets. Four gallons of liquor were found in the car when it was confiscated.

Davis and Mrs. Rosa South, also of 332 Woodward avenue, received cuts and bruises in the crash. Blood spots on the road and in the car led Officers J. W. Mooley and Fred L. Tippen to believe that the occupants of the liquor car were injured when they were thrown through the windshield.

MRS. RUBY REED ATTEMPTS TO END LIFE IN NEW YORK

Information was received in Atlanta Friday night of the attempted suicide in New York of Mrs. Ruby Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Collins, 49 Woodson avenue. No particulars were given.

The father of the young woman stated that Mrs. Reed had been in New York with her husband for some time but that he could assign no reason for her attempt on her life. Mr. Collins stated that he had wired hospital authorities for a full report but had not received a reply at a late hour Friday night.

Mrs. Collins is prostrated, following the news of the action of her daughter.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE THANKED BY ASSEMBLY

In appreciation of services rendered by the chamber of commerce to the members of the general assembly while in session here, the following resolution was drawn up Thursday by Mann, of Glynn, and Smith, of Lamar, and was passed by the assembly:

Whereas, The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce during the session of the general assembly held in the city of Atlanta, has rendered a distinct service to the members of the legislature, and Mrs. Ballard, by her genial disposition and general efficiency has endeavored herself to each of us; and Whereas, Through the use of this bureau, members of this body have been enabled to put through long-distance telephone calls to their homes without losing time from their duties in the two houses; and Whereas, In various other ways the bureau has been a benefit and a blessing; therefore be it Resolved, That the senate of Georgia, the house of representatives concurring, order to the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Ballard, its sincere and deep appreciation.

Fifth Ward Club Did Not Indorse Etheridge States J. W. Maddox

Dr. W. M. Etheridge, candidate for councilman from the fifth ward, was not indorsed as the official candidate of the ward as was reported after the Thursday night session of the civic league, according to a statement Friday by J. W. Maddox, of 491 West Tenth street, vice chairman of the club. The only indorsement at the meeting was the candidacy of Dr. L. M. Huff, candidate for alderman from the ninth ward, said Mr. Maddox.

LEGION EXECUTIVES MEET HERE MONDAY

A regional conference of American Legion executives and members of the Legion auxiliary will be held in Atlanta Monday and Tuesday according to announcement Friday night. All executives of the southeastern states are expected to attend the conference at which time business matters of importance will occupy the legions.

Included in the entertainment program are automobile trips to Stone Mountain to inspect the Confederate war memorial, visits to the cyclorama and many other points of interest. All trips will be made by automobiles furnished by the local post of the Legion.

ALL AUSTELL PAUSES FOR GOODWIRE BURIAL

Austell, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) All business houses here were closed during the funeral of David H. Goodwire, Southern railway agent for fifteen years, who died Wednesday.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. King at the Presbyterian church. Services at the grave were held by the local Masonic fraternity. He is survived by his widow, two sons and a daughter.

Mr. Goodwire was active in civic and church work and was very popular. One prominent local citizen, who has known Mr. Goodwire for thirty-five years, said: "He was the cleanest and best man I ever have associated with. He will be greatly missed."

Falls Six Stories; Has One Complaint, He Is Just Sore

St. Petersburg, Fla., August 17.—After falling six stories to the ground through a shaft in a new hotel here yesterday, Andrew Stewart, negro, workman, complains only of soreness and so far as can be learned has no injuries other than a bitten tongue and scraped shins. Although he struck a board floor with great force and a heavy window frame which fell down the shaft after him struck across his body he sustained no broken bones and is resting easy in a local negro hospital.

WOMAN SLAYER BREAKS PRISON TO SEEK DEATH

Hopkinsville, Ky., August 17.—Mrs. Henrietta Wagner, 50, charged with murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Rosetta Warren and her unborn child at Paducah last May, during a dynamite explosion, escaped from the county jail here today, where she has been permitted use of the corridor upon advice of physicians who claimed confinement in a cell was injurious to her health.

A note was found written by Mrs. Wagner, asserting she was going to end her life by drowning in a river near here and join her husband, who ended his life several weeks ago by jumping into a stream at Paducah. Footsteps were found leading to the river, but officials expressed belief she would not carry out her threat as she took a bundle of clothing with her.

Jealousy over Alfred Warren, the victim's husband, was attributed as the motive for the crime with which Mrs. Wagner is charged.

PRINTERS CLOSE ANNUAL SESSION

After five days and one night session of the International Typographical union replete with business transactions and factional and party conflicts, the 68th annual convention of the organization came to an official close Friday afternoon. The 60th assembly will be held in Toronto next August.

The fifth day's session was completed without friction despite a morning session which threatened to precipitate one of the most violent storms of the convention. The crisis was reached when the "progressive" element of the convention attempted to wrest from the control of the "conservative" party the editorship of the Typographical Journal, official organ of the Typographical union, by resolution, placing it under control of the executive committee. The executive committee is composed of President Charles Howard, Second Vice President William R. Trotter, Third Vice President Charles N. Smith and Secretary J. W. Hayes, present editor of the Journal. The resolution was lost in the afternoon session.

Fisher Launches Article.
The convention was begun when Delegate Fisher, of Oakland, Cal., member of the laws committee, charged Secretary Hayes with having used his position as editor of the official organ for political purposes and for the advantage of his own party. The Oakland delegate's charges followed the introduction of the resolution providing for the control of the editorship of the Journal by the executive council. Charges that Mr. Hayes had waged such a bitter fight against former President McFarland as to cause his death were made by Mr. Fisher, who stated President Mc-

Farland had said that he had been attacked as an inefficient officer while he was serving as president. When this assertion was made, dozens of delegates from all sections of the hall sprang to their feet in an effort to gain recognition by President Howard, and it seemed for a time that the word of battle, which had raged throughout the sessions, would be turned into a physical encounter.

Hayes Defends Position.
When order had been restored, Mr. Hayes had the floor and defended his position saying that he defied any member or any living man to prove the accusations made against him by Fisher.

He denied having launched unjust attacks on McFarland or any other member of the official board. He said that the charge of murder which Mr. Fisher and his associates had preferred against him was a serious charge and that he defied him or any of them to prove them. A proposition of the Washington, D. C. delegation to exclude from membership in the International union persons not naturalized citizens of the United States and Canada was lost. The measure provided membership in the event the candidate had applied for naturalization papers he would be considered eligible. The proposition was lost.

DAIRYMAN IS SHOT BY YOUNG NEGRO BOY

Dewey H. Gilbert, a dairyman, of 33 West Fair street, is at Grady hospital as the result of two shots fired at him Friday morning by Joe Arnold, negro. The shooting occurred at Cooper and Hendrix streets when Gilbert accosted the boy, who, he said, works for the same dairy. Arnold is said to have fired without warning. Gilbert's condition is not serious.

Call Officers Lamar Poole and J. C. McWilliams answered the call, and placed Arnold under arrest after a chase of several blocks. It was presumed by officers that Arnold was attempting to go to his home in Jonesboro.

Stole To Secure Money for Sick Wife, Says Jones

Jim Jones, better known in police circles as "Stuttering Jim," and famous for his many admitted successful safe robberies, confessed Friday that he was the yegman who cracked the safe of the Hubig Pie company, 455 Peachtree street, Wednesday night, after detectives had found his finger prints to correspond with those imprinted upon the safe.

Authorities notified detectives here several months ago that Jones was in Atlanta and he has been kept under strict observation. Wednesday night he succeeded in escaping their surveillance. The following morning the Hubig robbery was discovered and immediately suspicion was directed toward "Stuttering Jim."

Jones told detectives that he had quit the safe cracking game in 1917 and since that time had earned a living for himself and his wife as a carpenter. But, Jones stated, his wife became sick recently and they were facing eviction from their hotel. In desperation he turned back to his old business and was accused of "stealing."

Jones' young wife was being held in the matron's ward and her story is said to corroborate with the one he related to detectives.

Detectives say Jones is one of the best-known safe-crackers in this part of the country and is an expert in the business.

ANNEXATION BILLS PASSED ASSEMBLY, INQUIRY REVEALS

Records of the recent session of the Georgia general assembly introduced Friday that the bills introduced by the Fulton delegation, providing for annexation of East Point, College Park and Hapeville by the city of Atlanta, were adopted by both branches of the legislature and therefore are not included in the measures held over as unfinished business on the last night of the session.

The annexation bill providing for extension of Atlanta's corporate limits so as to take in the certain territory on Marietta street and the union stockyards, which was amended in the upper house and was not acted upon in the lower house, was introduced by Senator G. W. Lanford by request, in the senate, and provided that all city department heads of Atlanta be elected by the people so as to exercise complete control over their respective departments. It was drawn by Representative John Y. Smith, who later announced that the principal reason for the measure was to enable Chief James L. Beavers to assume complete control over the local police department.

Condition of Rail Line Bad, Is Report Made After Probe

Recommending that the Mason, Dublin & Savannah railroad lengthen the schedule of its passenger train service forty minutes in order to insure safety precautions, J. Houston Johnston, consulting engineer of the Georgia public service commission, in a report filed Friday, declared that the "physical condition of the railroad has been neglected and in need of immediate attention."

Mr. Johnston was recently sent on an investigation tour of the railroad by the commission following an appeal by residents in Dublin who urged that the railroad be thoroughly inspected to ascertain its safety.

"As a result of my investigation," the report stated, "I am of the opinion that the management has not given proper attention to this property in the matter of careful supervision, in the amount of money expended and in the manner the money has been spent."

The report called attention to the record of nineteen derailments on the railroad during the period from January 1 to August 14, due to neglect in maintaining proper condition of tracks, bridges, turnouts, and other matters.

Moton Is Reelected President of Negro Business Leaguers

Hot Springs, Ark., August 17.—Robert T. Moton, principal of Tuskegee university, was reelected president of the National Negro Business league at the final session today of the twenty-fourth annual convention of the organization.

Charles Banks, Mound Bayou, Miss.; C. H. Brooks, Philadelphia; R. R. Church, Memphis; L. E. Williams, Savannah, Ga.; O. M. Boddy, Memphis; W. L. Cohen, New Orleans; A. E. Malone, St. Louis; J. W. Lewis, Moundville, Pa., and C. Gaines, Georgia, were elected vice presidents.

Alton L. Holsey Tuskegee, Ala., secretary, John L. Webb, Hot Springs, treasurer and F. H. Gilbert, Brooklyn, registrar.

The convention endorsed the position taken by Dr. Moton in connection with the controversy relative to the negro veterans' hospital at Tuskegee and proclaimed him as the "leader of the negro race in America." The widow of the late Booker T. Washington was elected an honorary vice president of the league.

RAILWAY MAIL BODY TO MEET HERE SOON

The convention of the National Association of Railway Mailmen will be held here during the week of September 3, and will bring representatives of one of the most important branches of the postoffice system to Atlanta, according to an announcement Friday by E. B. Adams, of Atlanta, general chairman of the convention committee.

The association meets every two years, the meeting having been won for Atlanta at their last gathering in St. Paul, Minn., in 1921.

There are 12 divisions in the United States and every state in the union is represented by the organization. The ladies auxiliary of the organization will also assemble in Atlanta at the same time.

E. B. Adams and B. M. Moss, of Atlanta, will have a conference next week after hearing from the national organization and complete the details for the convention.

It is expected that several hundred will be in attendance. A total of approximately 400 attended the meeting in St. Paul.

STEWART TO ASK FOR IMPEACHMENT OF J. J. BROWN

Impeachment proceedings will be filed against J. J. Brown, commissioner of agriculture, in the Georgia house of representatives next summer, Representative Charles E. Stewart, of Atlanta, stated Friday in announcing he would not present evidence to a special legislative committee appointed to investigate the department.

Mr. Stewart, who led the fight in the assembly to secure an investigation of the agricultural department, the speaker of the house and president of the senate had been "hand-picked" and that its verdict exonerating the department was a "foregone conclusion."

Promised Square Deal.
Proceeding the appointment of the committee, Mr. Stewart said he and others had been assured by President Carver and Speaker Neill that they "would get a square deal." A list containing fifteen names was submitted to the speaker, he continued, adding that the appointment of two or three on the committee would have satisfied the house faction demanding the investigation.

My surprise and great disappointment I find that of the twelve members appointed on this committee had voted against the resolution for a real investigation and two had declared the committee appointed by the house to be a "foregone conclusion."

Says He Knows Rights.
"I also wish to state that the legislature meets again next summer and I know my rights as a member of the house of representatives and I am perfectly willing to submit our evidence and the rights of the patriotic members of the house who have been fighting for a fair investigation of the department of agriculture to this honorable body, but I certainly will not, in fairness to myself and the great majority of members, submit our evidence and our rights to this hand-picked committee on which we have been denied representation. Our fight is a righteous one. Our evidence and our rights in the premises will be submitted to the house of representatives next summer in proceedings which the evidence and occasion warrants."

The appointment of the investigating committee followed a series of charges made in the house and senate against Commissioner Brown, all of which were denied by the official. Members of the committee have announced the investigation will begin in Atlanta September 17.

GIRL TRIES SUICIDE Deaf Mute Takes Iodine at Hotel—Will Recover.

Miss Eula Edwards, 25, of Sauld, N. C., a deaf mute, attempted suicide at her hotel Friday morning by taking a quantity of iodine, according to notes found in her room. After being rushed to Grady hospital, she begged physicians to let her die saying by notes, that she was dependent over her physical handicaps and that she did not want to live, the doctors said.

Doctors at Grady said that she would recover and would not suffer ill effects from the poison. Miss Edwards has been attending the triennial convention of the National Association of the Deaf, now in session in Atlanta.

Six to Face Court For Murder Intent As Result of Fight

Warrants charging assault with intent to murder were sworn out Friday against F. W. "Woodie" Fouché, of 483 North Boulevard, H. W. Russey, 86 West Baker street; R. L. Hubbard, 473 North Boulevard, and M. W. Thompson, 101 Forrest avenue, who are alleged to have taken part in a shooting affray on Greenwood avenue, August 1, in which six young Atlanta men took part.

E. E. Smith, who is charged with shooting Fouché, and Earl Coursey, of West Lake avenue, participants on the other side, have already been served with warrants sworn out by F. D. Fouché, brother of F. W. Fouché.

All six young men will be heard in municipal court next week. The fight is said to have resulted from a controversy involving a young lady, following a dance at Austell, Ga.

SHOWERS COOL CITY Effects Will Continue to Be Felt Here Today.

The showers which cooled the city Friday will continue to relieve the heat of today, said C. F. von Herrmann, local weather bureau. The highest temperature Friday was 85 and in all probability would have reached 90 but for the cooling showers, said Mr. von Herrmann. The weather bureau reports that partly cloudy weather will prevail in this locality and high temperature will continue during the next thirty-six hours, with a possibility of showers.

Verdict Is the Same On the Second Trial

"I have just begun taking Tanlac for the second time, but it is already helping me, just like it did several years ago," declared James S. Reynolds, well-known manager of the mechanical and cold storage department of the Hotel Fort Rome, Ga.

"I first took Tanlac for a general run-down condition and to build up my system. I was nervous and shaky, could not sleep well and did not feel like working. Tanlac quickly improved my appetite, strengthened my nerves so I could sleep better, and made me not only stronger physically, but more careful in spirits."

"This spring I commenced to feel run down again, so I am again taking Tanlac, and already feel entirely different. I sleep and eat better, feel more active and am gaining every day. Tanlac answers every requirement of my system."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37,000,000 bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.—(Ad.)

GEORGIA HAS AWAKENED!

The Southern States Life Insurance Company (the only legal reserve life insurance company with its home office in State of Georgia) ranked fifth in business produced last year in the State of Georgia, out of the sixty-three life insurance companies operating in the State (excluding companies writing industrial and group insurance). The companies who exceeded the Southern States entered the State and affected agency connections from thirty to forty-five years prior to our entrance.

Auto Theft Gang Blamed, as Four More Cars Taken

With the reports of four automobiles being stolen Thursday afternoon bringing the total for this week to a dozen, Chief of Police James L. Beavers issued warning to Atlantans, who valued their machines, to keep them under lock and key. The chief declared that he believed an organized gang of automobile thieves was at work in the city.

Special instructions have been issued to all members of the force to keep a vigilant lookout. Special attention was directed toward parked cars in the downtown sections, this seeming to be the locality in which the thieves have directed their attentions. The chief declared that the police were going to do everything in their power to stop auto stealing, but added they could do practically nothing unless the car owners cooperated with them.

H. L. Walker, of 200 West Alexander street, said his car was stolen from in front of his house. The Seacar Machine Tool company reported that an automobile belonging to them had been taken from in front of Spiller's park, on Ponce de Leon avenue. O. C. Fanning, of 9 West Ontario avenue and H. E. Harris, of 401 Bryd street, in East Point also reported cars being stolen from them.

We got them in a manufacturer's clearance. Not all sizes in each style—that's why we cleared them at such a small price—but you'll find all sizes from 2 to 8 in the assortment.

Good-looking little Oliver Twist styles of fast colored chambray, flannel, Palmer, Jr., and middie jeans. Some of them are braided-trimmed. Sleeves are long or short. Plain colors or combinations. Even if their prices were $3.75 to $5—they'd be good buys!

Something New! Something Different! Vanity Boxes, $3.50

Fashion knew she could never, never get along without her compact little vanity box, but she was so tired of it. So she put her frivolous head to work and changed the shape and design of it completely.

She made some in the shape of drums, some square and some hexagonal. Inside they're daintily lined with silk, with a coin purse and mirror and a pocket for powder puff. The outside of them is of leather, with tops of imitation colored ivory. In brown, gray, blue, black, white and combinations.

Of Course, They're Specially Priced! Jersey Petticoats, $1.98

When we buy them again we'll probably have to sell them for $2.98, for that's what these petticoats are made to sell for.

They're of pure silk Jersey with ribbon trimmed pleated flounces or pleated flounces of English sateen or ruffled trimmed flounces of taffeta. In gray, purple, green, brown, turquoise, orange, sand and jockey.

Specially Priced for Today! Box Pound Paper, 27c

Societe Royale pound paper, with a smooth linen finish that's easy to write upon and makes an attractive letter.

Regulation letter size sheets with envelopes to match. In white only. A pound of paper is specially priced, 27c, and a package of envelopes, 9c.

Buy These for School Days! Wool Skirts, $2.98

Specially priced! Mothers will be glad to be saved the trouble of making them. Middy skirts of checked or plaid velour in black and white or brown and white. Pleated all around on white muslin body. Sizes 6 to 14 years.

Clearance of Slightly Soiled $1.98 Middy Blouses, $1

What matter if they are a bit soiled from lying about? A trip to the laundry will fix that up and the saving more than makes up for it! Full length and Regent middies of good quality white middie jeans with blue or red collars. Long sleeves, some with emblems. Sizes 18 to 22 only.

Clearing Tots' $3.50 Voile and Dimity Dresses for $1.98

Many of them are hand-smocked; many of them show dainty hand-embroidery; some of them are trimmed with little ruffles.

They're made with or without pantees. Of fine quality dimities and soft, fine voiles. In pink, blue, rose, white and red.

Going by the Half-Dozen Lots 50c Socks, 2 for 75c

Mothers are buying them half a dozen at a time, for they can see that these are unusually good socks—and the savings are fine.

They're silk plaited or of fine imported lisle. Full fashioned. Plain colors or white with fancy tops. Unusual at 2 pairs for 75c.

NEW WASHINGTON LETTER.

Secretary of War Weeks is a firm believer in preparedness—and as the horizon that hangs over the old world becomes more reddened from the serious international controversies that could have been averted had America concluded in peace her policy, he undoubtedly feels more convinced of the force of his argument.

Recently there was brought to light an old letter of George Washington, written in 1781, shortly after the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown, to Robert H. Harrison, a member of General Washington's staff, in which the great revolutionary leader and father of his country declared that the "only certain way to obtain peace is to be ready for war." It is a powerful argument for preparedness and an equally great blow to the pacifists.

Secretary Weeks, according to reports from Washington, has had a photostat copy made and framed, and placed on an easel on his private desk in the war department.

The letter deals with some personal matters, but in order to feel the force of General Washington's conviction it is necessary to read it in full. It follows:

"Mount Vernon, 18th Nov., '81.
"Dear Sir:
"A few days previous to my leaving the camp before York, I was favoured with your letter of the 11th inst. I should see you on my return, I postponed acknowledging the receipt of it, but I depair of that pleasure, being on my way to Philadelphia without making any stay on the road except one day at Annapolis if the gov. should be there. I am, however, very anxious to see you at this place with me on Tuesday last and proposed being at Portobacco next day, to let you know I should stay a few days at home and should be glad to see you or you might be attending the courts.

"I thank you for your kind congratulations on the capitulation of Cornwallis—it is an interesting event and may be productive of much good if properly improved—but if it should be the means of relaxation and sink us into supineness and security it had better not have happened. Great Britain for some time past has been encouraged by the impolicy of our conduct to continue the war—and should there be an interference of European powers in her favour, peace may be further removed from us than we expect, while one thing we are sure of and that is, that the only certain way to obtain peace is to be prepared for war—policy, interest, economy—will unite to stimulate the States to fill the continental battalions, and provide the means of supporting them—I hope the present favourable moment for doing it will not be neglected.

"McCurtis' death has given much distress in this family—I congratulate you on your late change and am glad to see you.

"Most obed and affect. serv.
"G. Washington.

"Robt. H. Harrison, Esq."

It was a great southern general in the civil war who said "pray but keep the powder dry."

If such an idealistic, altruistic condition could arrive as a disarmament by all nations—certainly all naval powers—the "preparedness" could always be a just basis of such international understandings, but with the situation as it is, with the United States protesting against any international pact for armament instead of arms, then the words of Washington are deeply impressive.

The letter, however, is published here as a new contribution to the history of the stirring days in which the American republic was being cradled.

"PUSH AND PULL."

That veteran farmer-philosopher, Colonel John E. Finch, of The Greensboro (Ga.) Herald-Journal, in his weekly letter to that paper says—

"The only hope we see to bring this country back to its former prosperity lies in the cow, the hog and the chickens. Make all the crops you can outside of this. Crops that the weevil don't eat. Push and pull; have faith, and all things will come out right in the end. We have always found this to be true."

In this connection the following is quoted from The Mississippi Sun, which is the experience of a farmer of that state—

"I realized that the boll weevil can not puncture a cream separator, so I bought a cream separator—the first in the country. Then I bought a steam pressure canner and sealer. With the use of the separator I am selling from five cows twenty-five pounds of butter and many gallons of milk a week and realizing a fine profit. By feeding the chickens plenty of skim milk and clabber I am selling more than I ever did before. From the use of the canner and sealer we have all kinds of fruit and vegetables every day in the year. We also have canned meats of various kinds."

That is "making every edge cut," and the good thing about it is that the experience of the Mississippi farmer is duplicated by that of others.

Even by starting, in a small way, the fight against the boll weevil results are such as to encourage others, and the farmers soon "branch out" to big and profitable business.

It's "push and pull" in every way to make the most of all the products the farm can be made to grow.

Parents should be careful the abundance.

In the towns and cities, the services are usually held either in the early spring or fall of the year, but out in the country, it has always been customary to hold the 'annual' meeting during the lay-by season. But a new condition has arisen. Since the advent of the boll weevil there is no such thing as laying-by time. So that it may be the boll weevil—small, little bug as it is—will put a stop to protracted meetings in the summer time."

BARTLETT PLANNING TRIP THROUGH ARCTIC

Washington, August 17.—Details of a plan to explore a water route northeastward from Alaska waters through the Arctic regions were announced here today by Captain Robert A. Bartlett, commander of the United States ship Albatross, which is being sent to the north pole.

Captain Bartlett said he proposed to leave Seattle next June or July, pass through Bering Strait, and then drift eastward with the ice to Greenland and Spitzbergen. He should be able to reach civilization again at one of these points, he said, within four or five years.

A party of ten, including scientists who can make an expert survey of the expedition. A wooden, non-magnetic ship will be used, and instruments for sounding the depths of the Arctic ocean and examining whatever life may be found there will be carried on the ship.

The ship will carry wireless and a seaplane. "Of course we may get frozen up for a year or so somewhere," said Captain Bartlett, but probably we won't be delayed long enough to prevent us from accomplishing our object.

CONFESSES SETTING MORE THAN 25 FIRES

Sacramento, Cal., August 17.—Charges of first degree murder probably will be filed against F. Padilla, who, according to police, confessed to setting more than twenty-five fires in California, among them that of the Japanese mission school here, in which ten children lost their lives last April, it was announced here today by District Attorney J. J. Henderson.

Based upon the alleged confession, the police and agents of the state arson bureau estimate the property damage to be more than $5,000,000.

Most of his activities, covering a period of less than a year, have been directed against the homes and businesses of Japanese, the police declare. Asked why he had set the fires, Padilla, who is a Mexican, replied through an interpreter, the officers said, that he "liked the excitement they created."

The officers in charge of the investigation expressed the belief that Padilla set the fires because of some undisclosed motive or that he is insane.

SCORNS COLLEGE CHAIR TO BECOME PLASTERER

Chicago, August 17.—Plasterers' wages of $104 and more a week are causing student ministers and members of other professions to take up the trowel in Evanston, where work on a new hotel is in progress. Until recently Rev. Frank Cummings was a member of the plastering gang. George Sellick, of Portland, Ore., a graduate of Washington university, a civil engineer and a holder of several degrees, recently turned down the offer of a professorship to join the plasterers.

I learned the trade in high school and worked my way through college," Sellick said. "When I graduated in 1917 I found the trade paid better than my profession as an engineer. I worked for $200 a month and my pay runs between $400 and $500."

BITS OF NEW YORK LIFE

BY O. O. MINTYRE

New York, August 17.—The lantern rimmed sightseeing buses that pack along Times square curbs waiting to carry passengers off to the thrills of Chinatown, Coney and the Bowery offer a rare study in crowd psychology. It is the ballyhoo's job to fill the lumbering vehicles. Each has its quota of "decoys"—prim-looking women who are paid 50 cents an hour to sit waiting or reading in the seats. No one will enter an empty bus.

You hear the ballyhoo cry: "Just starting. See the Chinese opium dens! The Bowery slums. Coney ablaze with light! Last trip today. One dollar the round trip!" The lusty ballyhoos are paid $50 a week and a percentage of the fares. Many make $100 a week.

It is a nerve-racking task for the few who are lured by the promise of "just starting" become irritated by the long wait for the rush of their fares. They must be pacified. Now and then the chauffeur will crank the car to give an impression of starting.

The "decoys" aid in the pacification. To each other they remark for the newcomers: "I took this trip last summer. It was just lovely. I was never so thrilled in my life." There are times when they keep passengers waiting two hours.

A ballyhoo will, at such times, call out to the megaphoned guide: "We gotta get away soon, Jake. Don't want these folks to miss the Chinese wedding." And Jake will reply with an exaggeration of some other wonder to be seen on this trip.

From morning until night the ballyhoos sing their song—luring the yokel from the rushing crowds. His style is intimate and confidential. He appeals somewhat of a mystic. Above the thunderous roar he pleads to doubting Thomases: "Goin' right out! Fast car to Coney and Chinatown! And his lippy persistence always wins."

Window demonstrators who perform for hurrying passers-by now have their own club on Seventh avenue. There are about 250 men who make their living demonstrating various devices in windows.

SERMONS TO LIVE BY

BY ELAM FRANKLIN DEMPSEY

Text, "Have ye received the Holy Ghost?" Acts 19:6. The power of the Christian religion is due to the indwelling of God Himself in the person of the Holy Spirit.

This fact breathes in many a prayer and in such hymn-petitions as this familiar stanza:
"Come, Holy Spirit, heavenly Dove,
With all Thy quickening powers;
Kindle a flame of sacred love,
In these cold hearts of ours."

Someone has recorded this telling illustration:
"Dr. John Robertson tells of a Scotch minister who, years ago, at the hearthfires had gone out. It was before the days of matches. The only way to relight the fires was to find some hearth where the fire was yet aglow. Their search was fruitless until at last they found a flaming hearth away up on the hill. One by one they came to the hearth and lighted their peat, put it carefully in the pan, shielding it from the wind, and the fires were soon burning again throughout the community.

"Are the fires getting low in your heart? Has the chill of worldliness settled down upon you? Find a plenty of fire on the hill. Climb up into His presence through the path of surrender, and He will take the live coal from the altar and lay it upon your heart and upon your lips. This is the fullness of the Holy Ghost."

THE MINARET OF MINIATURE MASTERPIECES

There has been a gratifying response to Eddie's Macedonian cry for more jokes and they are now rolling in almost as fast as the poems. Here's hoping the Faithful keep up the good work. Remember that the munificent rewards and the coveted titles are awarded just as quickly for a snappy line as for a lengthy masterpiece in verse.

Contribs have been so good lately that Eddie hasn't had a chance to add much to that scrap book humor you have read some time ago.

Questions and Answers

Any reader may obtain a personal reply to any answerable question of fact or information by writing to Washington Bureau, Atlanta Constitution, 1322 New York avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., enclosing 2 cents in stamps. Legal, medical and marital advice can not be given, nor can extended research be undertaken. Unsigned letters can not be answered. All letters are confidential.

Q.—Who becomes the acting vice-president of the United States now that Vice-President Coolidge is the president?
A.—No one; the office of vice-president remains vacant until the next election. The president pro tempore of the senate, Senator Cummings, of Iowa, takes the vice-president's place so far as presiding over the sessions of the senate is concerned.

Q.—When were postage stamps first used in the United States?
A.—The earliest were in 1845, issued by postmasters at their own expense. The sales of these stamps were so satisfactory that in 1847 the government took control of the printing and selling of them.

Q.—Is it true that an enormous salary is paid Miss Florence Pullman for naming the Pullman cars?
A.—No. The cars are named in the office of the Pullman company, the names being chosen in various ways. Sometimes they are named for cities, sometimes for famous men. One name suggests others. For example, someone named a car "Charles Dickens," then the idea occurred to use the names of the characters in this author's novels.

Q.—Who was the first vice-president to be called to the presidential chair?
A.—Tyler, and as he was absent at the time of President Harrison's death, the cabinet had concluded he should be styled "vice-president of the United States, acting president." This impression was quickly removed when Tyler was again elected.

Q.—Is chloroform a good substance with which to kill and preserve spiders?
A.—No; it will kill them, but as a preservative it turns them black. Glycerine will preserve the color of specimens almost indefinitely.

Q.—Are gears used in connecting an airplane propeller to the engine?
A.—No. A propeller is driven directly by the crankshaft.

Q.—How long will Calvin Coolidge have served as president when he finishes with the term for which Harding was elected?
A.—Five hundred and seventy-eight days, nine hours and 13 minutes.

Q.—What does the name Coletta mean?
A.—Of noble birth.

Q.—To have it in their system?—Mrs. R. H. D.
Answer—No. I don't believe aphyllis can be converted to the third generation. It was rather unfortunate that you discovered the skeleton in the closet. I advise you to forget that you stumbled on the thing, likely as not it is not even in your own system, if father really had aphyllis, which not unlikely he didn't.

TWO ARE CLAIMED BY LAKE TRAGEDY

The body of J. W. Vandergriff, well-known decorator, was taken from the lake at the East Lake Country club Friday morning about 4 o'clock, the second victim of an accident in which Miss Elsie Maurer lost her life and several others narrowly escaped drowning when a raft on which a group of young ladies and three men were riding careened and tossed the party into the lake Thursday night shortly after 9 o'clock.

Miss Maurer's body was recovered thirty minutes after the tragedy and for a time it was thought that Mr. Vandergriff, an expert swimmer, had reached shore safely. Efforts to locate him among the crowd at the water carnival failed, but friends scouted the suggestion that such a good swimmer would have drowned. Divers and volunteer workers made a search of the section of the lake where the party was thrown into the water and powerful searchlights failed to locate the body. After efforts to locate the young decorator on the club grounds or at his home had failed, a searching party was organized and the waters, finally locating the body at about 4 o'clock Friday morning at the spot where the raft careened and within a few feet of where rescuers found the body of Miss Maurer, several hours earlier.

Many See Tragedy.
The tragedy occurred Thursday night about 9 o'clock, 200 feet from the beach in plain view of several hundred delegates to the National Association of Deaf, in session in Atlanta. The raft, gaily decorated and carrying seven young ladies, dancing pupils of Miss Nellie Sullivan; Dr. J. H. Cloud, president of the association, and two rowers, Mr. Vandergriff and Joe Person, expert swimmers, formed a part of the carnival or pageant which had been arranged for the visiting delegates. The raft pushed off and when a short distance from the shore tilted to one side, badly frightening the young ladies. The rowers called out that there was no danger and asked them to remain calm. Fearing that the raft would capsize, and seized with horror, the young women rushed across to the side of the rowers and the combined weight caused the raft to careen and spill its occupants into the water. Dr. Cloud, seated on the throne, remained perfectly calm and was not harmed.

Rush to Rescue.
The splash in the water attracted the attention of many club members and others assisting in the entertainment for the deaf delegates, and cries for help were heard. Several persons were in bathing suits on the banks and in the water and went immediately to the rescue. A number were brought ashore in boats and it was several minutes after the tragedy before the absence of Miss Maurer and Mr. Vandergriff was noticed. Searchers found Miss Maurer's body after thirty minutes and when a number of bystanders stated that Mr. Vandergriff had been seen coming ashore in a boat, further search was discontinued. Later in the night Thursday when he failed to reach home and after efforts to locate him proved futile, searchers re-entered the lake and after several hours work found his body.

Girl Is Unconscious.
Miss Maxine Morris, a deaf girl and well-known young dancer, was on the raft and was unconscious when brought from the water. She was rescued by Mr. Person after a heroic struggle. Others on the boat included Misses May Collins, Margaret McDuff, Mary Annis McGinty and Sarah Boswell. The young ladies were riding on a short ride on the lake before appearing on the program in the pageant. Mr. Person was the only person on the raft in a bathing suit.

Joe Person, Ed Hatcher, "Scanlon" Sullivan, Miss Virginia Ashe, H. M. Ashe, William Noyes, Miss Margaret Rogers, V. W. Shephard and many others performed wonderful service in rescuing the party. Mr. Shephard jumped into the lake fully dressed and worked until exhaustion forced him to retire.

Officials of the East Lake club said the raft had not been used since the water carnival presented for the delegates to the Credit Men's convention here several weeks ago. Mr. Person, however, said it appeared perfectly safe, and that it never sank Thursday night.

"We tried to do it over after the accident to find whether any one was caught under the raft," he stated Thursday, "but this was impossible. If the girls had not become frightened, I don't believe there would have been any accident."

Girls Become Excited.
"About 100 feet from the shore, we heard a gurgling sound and the young women became frightened. We told them to sit still. Just then the raft tilted a little in the water and they became more excited. Because I was wearing a bathing suit, I suppose they thought I was some kind of a life guard because they all ran to where I was sitting, paddling. "Naturally, the raft tipped over and just as several grabbed at me, we all went into the water, with the exception of Mr. Cloud, who remained seated on the throne and who only got his feet wet. I only wish everybody else would have done and tried to hold the girls above the surface."

Shock Not Cause.
Miss Ashe is one of the best women swimmers in the south, holding the fifty and hundred-yard championships and having won the 100-yard event in the national junior competition. Mr. Person, is a powerful swimmer, and an expert diver, having won several events around Atlanta and having won second place at a recent meet in Birmingham.

A number were inclined Friday to believe that Miss Maurer's death resulted from the shock of fright, but physicians said drowning was the cause of death. Her body was removed to the parlors of H. M. Patterson & Son, while the body of Mr. Vandergriff was taken to the chapel of Harry G. Poole.

Miss Maurer is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Maurer, 323 N. Jackson street, and three sisters, Misses Loretta, Gertrude and Marie Maurer; and five brothers, W. F. Jr.; Leo, W. E., Oscar and Edwin Maurer.

The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the Sacred Heart church, of which Miss Maurer was a member. Father James A. Horton will officiate, and interment will be in West View cemetery.

Mr. Vandergriff is survived by a widow; an eight-year-old daughter, Allen; three sisters, Mrs. Ethel Bullard, of Atlanta; Mrs. H. M. McGraw, of Montgomery, Ala.; Mrs. J. T. Collins, of Macon; and two brothers, Edwin G. Vandergriff, of Atlanta, and Henry Vandergriff, of Hot Springs, Ark.

The funeral of Mr. Vandergriff will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the chapel of Harry G. Poole. Interment will be in West View cemetery. Pallbearers will be from Atlanta lodge, No. 59, F. & A. M.

Former Atlanta Woman Describes Harding Funeral

An account of the funeral exercises in Washington for President Harding is given in a letter from Mrs. Jeanette H. Newton, of that city, a former resident of Atlanta, to Miss Louise McCannan, of this city, in which she describes the president as he lay in state, while thousands filed by the pier to look for the last time upon the chief executive.

Thousands came hours ahead of time, Mrs. Newton said, to form in line in order to pass by the president's bier. Mrs. Newton was among these, and gives her impression of President Harding as he lay in his casket.

Her letter declares: "Tall candles were burning at the head of the bier. The catafalque was draped in a flag and a great wreath of roses rested upon the casket. The lid was raised and the people who he had loved looked for the last time upon the features of their leader."

"I did not know that the hand of death could leave one so calm, peaceful and beautiful. He seemed as though asleep, not dead. There were no lines of suffering to mar the tranquility of his face. His lips were relaxed in a half-smile, which was so characteristic of him. It was the face of one who had gone to sleep—the last deep sleep—in peace with the world and with his God."

In speaking of the funeral procession, Mrs. Newton said: "As the funeral procession started, the Marine Band played 'O' God, Christian Soldiers.' Later they played 'Adeste Fideles.' The side and rear curtains of Mrs. Harding's car were drawn and she sat alone. Ex-President Wilson was a short distance behind, and as the cortege moved down the avenue, he was crying. The caisson upon which the casket rested was drawn by nine roan horses. A flag draped the caisson, upon which a single spray of roses rested."

DEKALB PLANS ISSUE OF BONDS FOR SCHOOLS

R. E. Carroll, superintendent of schools, has announced that in order to care for the 40 per cent increase in school children in the county during the past five years, the DeKalb county board of education would in all probability spend more than $200,000 before the year is up. This sum is intended for housing purposes only, it was stated.

Scottsdale and Chamblee have already voted to issue bonds amounting to $110,000 for new buildings. The Scottsdale school will be a sixteen room structure and will hold both the high school and grammar grades.

The other school districts, Clarkston and Cross Keys, will be called upon in the near future to vote upon the issuance of $25,000 and $30,000 school bonds respectively. It is thought that the Stone Mountain district will hold an election soon to decide on the issuance of bonds amounting to $50,000, Mr. Carroll said.

With the exception of the Scottsdale building, the schools will be for the accommodation of grammar grades only.

8 KILLED, 50 HURT IN CLASH AT AIX

Aix la Chapelle, Germany, August 17.—(By the Associated Press.) The communist disturbances here are continuing with sanguinary results. Eight persons were killed and fifty injured today in collisions between the communists and police, while fifteen persons injured in previous disorders died in the hospitals.

Extra Food Supply.
Dusseldorf, August 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Increased efforts to relieve the food shortage in the occupied area were revealed today by the announcement that 800 car loads of foodstuffs had entered the Ruhr valley yesterday from unoccupied Germany. Heretofore the daily shipments have never exceeded 500 cars.

The efforts at amelioration have come none too soon because food riots, the pillaging of stores and the straining of potatoes from the fields are in progress in various parts of the occupied territory.

At several places the French, acting on request of the local German authorities, sent a detachment of cavalry accompanied by German police to protect the crops from being ravaged by organized pillaging parties.

Hunger demonstrators at Datteln, near Gelsenkirchen, disarmed the police when the latter tried to interfere with the manifestants and eight members of the police force were seriously wounded by the angry mob. Similar incidents, but of a less serious nature, are reported from several other towns.

A dispatch from Cologne to the local German newspapers says the French had seized 697,000,000 marks in local money from the printing office at Lutzet, a suburb of Cologne.

The French in Essen have seized 14,000,000 marks from the Essen branch of the reichsbank, which they occupied a few days ago.

Reichsbank Returns.
Berlin, August 17.—Returns of the Reichsbank for the first week in August show a currency increase of 30,500,000,000 marks, its total of 62,333,000,000 representing a doubling of paper circulation within two weeks.

While the returns for the second week of the current month are still outstanding, it is believed they will outstrip by far the present inflation figures as the banks unloading of new marks during the last week's crisis is said to have averaged ten trillions per day.

During the first seven days' period the Reichsbank increased its holdings of discounted treasury bills and private checks and drafts by thirty-three trillions.

Cuno Appointment Denied.
Berlin, August 17.—Chancellor Stresemann will fill the post of foreign minister temporarily as Herr Viegand von Bergen, German ambassador to the vatican, has not yet sent his acceptance.

The ministry of posts and telegraphs has been definitely assigned to Dr. Anton Hoeffel, of the clerical party.

It was denied that former Chancellor Cuno has been appointed to succeed Dr. Otto Wiegand as ambassador to the United States.

Governor Names Officials Of New Griffin Circuit

W. E. H. SEARCY, and E. M. OWEN, of Pike, Friday were appointed by Governor Clifford Walker, judge and solicitor-general respectively of the new Griffin judicial circuit, created recently by the Georgia general assembly.

Judge Searcy and Solicitor Owen were officials of the Flint circuit, from which the Griffin circuit was taken, but resigned in order that they might be appointed to the new circuit. Governor Walker has not yet named the new judge and solicitor-general of the Flint circuit.

Several delegations of Atlantans called upon the governor during the last few days urging him to appoint their friends as judges of the new Fulton circuit. While the governor has refrained from announcing the appointee of this circuit as yet, he intimated that he would probably announce his choice within the next few days.

GOVERNOR TO NAME FLINT CIRCUIT OFFICIALS TODAY.
Appointment of a judge and solicitor-general for the Flint circuit will be announced by Governor Walker, it was learned through unofficial circuit Friday night.

Judge T. J. Brown, of McDonough, and Ogden Persons, of Forsyth, are being considered for the judgeship, and E. O. Dobbs, of Barnesville, and Frank Willingham, of Forsyth, are being considered for appointment as solicitor.

No information could be obtained from the governor's office Friday regarding the appointment of two officials to vacancies caused by creation of the new Griffin circuit and appointment of the former Flint circuit judge and solicitor-general for the new circuit.

It was learned, from reliable sources, however, that the vacancies would be filled with the least possible delay, and that Governor Walker's selections for the places would be made known Saturday.

MRS. EVA WHITFIELD BURIED AT ROCKMART
Rockmart, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—Mrs. Eva Whitfield, age 66, who died at her daughter's home in Columbus, was buried here. Mrs. Whitfield before her marriage was Miss Doyle, of Dublin, but lived in Cedarhurst for years.

She is survived by five sons, Luther, of Atlanta; Emmett, of Cedarhurst; Russell, of Waycross; Charles, of Savannah, and Robert Whitfield, of Waycross; and four daughters, Mrs. J. H. Solomon, of Jeffersonville; Mrs. W. L. McCormick, of Jacksonville, Ala.; and Mrs. W. L. Ector, of Columbus.

DEKALB WILL HOLD HEALTH MEETS SOON
Two meetings will be held the coming week in different parts of DeKalb county in the interests of a county board of health, as provided in the Ellis public health law which was passed by the legislature some years ago. One meeting will be held Monday night at the Lithonia motion picture house, and the other at Oakhurst school Tuesday evening.

The law states that a county may have a public board of health, provided it is recommended by two successive grand juries. And this recommendation has been made by two DeKalb grand juries. The movement now under way is to arouse public interest and support for the board.

Since the late war 5,280 families have settled on Wisconsin farms.

J. F. B. Boswell Buried.
Perry, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) J. F. B. Boswell died at his home here Wednesday and was buried in Evergreen cemetery Thursday afternoon. He was 68 years old and is survived by his wife, three sons, George, Charles and Young, and two daughters, Kinney and Mae. He moved to Perry about ten years ago from Carroll county.

Judge Bryan to Speak.
The Decatur Chamber of Commerce will have for its principal speaker at the regular meeting Tuesday night, August 21, Judge Shepard Bryan. The centennial celebration to be held this fall in honor of Decatur's one hundredth anniversary will be the subject of discussion. Charles D. McKinney, prominent Atlanta business man, is fathering the movement and will be in charge of all committees.

Frankie Garcia and Tim O'Dowd Meet Tuesday

Chicago Battler To Arrive Here Monday and Will Give Workout Before the Public

Local Boy Is In Fine Trim for Go and Is Working Out Every Day—Preliminaries Are Arranged.

Frankie Garcia, the California streak, is coming back to Atlanta, this time to meet a foe worthy of his steel, if the wonderful performance Tim O'Dowd has put up here and in Louisville the other night can be taken as a criterion.

Garcia now of Chicago, will arrive probably Monday, accompanied by his manager, Jimmy Davant. O'Dowd is here, training faithfully, though he is already in prime condition.

The two featherweights will come to grips Tuesday night in Spiller Bowl, fighting 10 rounds to a decision, under the auspices of the American Legion, Post No. 1.

The Legion matchmaker this time has arranged a fancy preliminary card which he confidently expects will far exceed in the matter of action and as well as interest the preliminaries on the Roper-Lohman bout.

Battling Barnett vs. K. O. Crosby, eight rounds.

Hollis Sullivan vs. Bandy Lewis, six rounds.

Irish Banny vs. Frankie Mayo, six rounds.

Jackie Wells vs. Young Collins, four rounds.

The Legion is getting back into the promotion game in earnest, and in the next few weeks plans to stage some real bouts.

Performed Here Before.

Atlanta has seen Garcia before, against Jackie Sanders, and was immensely pleased with his remarkable boxing ability. He did everything to Sanders that the Queensbury rules allow.

And since then Garcia has been fighting steadily, and reports indicate that he has added to his already vast knowledge of the ring game.

However, he can be assured of getting a battle from O'Dowd, the latter's easy victory over Joe Paglin in Louisville the other night is convincing evidence that Tim is in the land. He is gradually gaining in strength and learning the finer points of the art.

It promises to be a one whole of a battle, and if Spiller Bowl is not packed Tuesday evening it will be no fault of the matchmaker.

Atlanta has seen Garcia before, against Jackie Sanders, and was immensely pleased with his remarkable boxing ability. He did everything to Sanders that the Queensbury rules allow.

And since then Garcia has been fighting steadily, and reports indicate that he has added to his already vast knowledge of the ring game.

AUSTRALIANS NET VICTORS

Brookline, Mass., August 17.—Australia will meet the United States Davis Cup team again this year in another attempt to hoist the great silver bowl which stands for the world championship in tennis play.

Defeated in the challenge round of 1922, by the American defenders, the Australians sent back a team which seemed to be a scrub aggregation by comparison with last year's squad, and that team won the semi-final fight of the worldwide competition by taking a bitterly contested match of five long sets Friday from the Frenchmen, semi-finalists from the European zone.

Again Australia used her veteran players, J. O. Anderson and Y. B. Hawkes. The two younger members of the squad, Tchilesinger and McInnis, kept to the sidelines as long as there was critical play to carry on. Hawkes and Anderson won the two singles matches Saturday which now become here exhibition as long as there was critical play to carry on. Hawkes and Anderson won the two singles matches Saturday which now become here exhibition as long as there was critical play to carry on.

Rene La Coste and Jacques Brunon met Hawkes and Anderson. They put up the most terrific contest ever seen on the storied turf of Brookline. The score itself gives only a glimpse of the fight and the score is eloquent at that, 6-8, 6-3, 6-3, 6-8, 9-7. How the fortunes and hopes of the struggling young Frenchmen rose and fell and revived as the conflict surged around the net may be observed from the fact that they lead after the first set and brought the match to even at the end of the fourth only to lose, after all, at the conclusion of sixteen games in the last.

Sixty-two games they played in a long and exhausting campaign in which their spirit at times seemed to convey a reminder of Verdun and the hammer blows of the crater prince. Brugnion and La Coste made a splendid double combination. They played spectacularly and took chances with the light hearted recklessness of youth. They worked together at the net and went after seemingly impossible shots for successful recoveries. Brugnion was less steady than his partner, however, and he drove many balls into the net.

Anderson played erratically. His errors exceeded his earned points. Hawkes was steady, as usual. And his partner's errors put an almost unbearable burden on his endurance and skill.

Cost of Senate Fun.

(From The New York Evening Post.)

Senator George H. Moses says he declined a salary of $40,000 to stay in the senate at $7,500 because the fun which is having is worth $32,500 a year. It may be worth that to the senator, but unkind critics will remark that from the public point of view the senator's fun is entirely too expensive.

Walker in Fine Form.

New Orleans, August 17.—Walker held Nashville to one hit, a weak grounder through short, today, and the pitcher took the opening game of the series 5 to 0.

Neither of the two visiting batters who reached first base advanced to second. Murray, who walked in first inning, and Derrison, who acquired the single in the sixth, were the ones to get.

Kiki Cuyler Needs 34 Bases To Break League Record

Nashville Outfielder Has Stolen 53 Bases to Date. Johnston Holds Record With 87.

Nashville, Tenn., August 17.—(Special.)—Kiki Cuyler needs 34 more stolen bases to tie the Dixie burglary mark.

Those Vols have 33 more games to play.

That means the Vol Sultan of Swiping must annex a hasso in each remaining duel. And one or two more in some consecutive games.

"I was seven years back that the Dixie record for base-stealing was set by Jimmy Johnston, now a star with Uncle Wilbert Robinson's Robins. At that time he was playing his trade as a Baron.

No Dixie performer, before or since that time, was within twelve bases of the 87 which the fleet Johnston stole. Back in 1904, Joe Rickard, a famous fly-chaser of New Orleans, hatched 74 bases, and in 1913, Bob Messinger, another Birmingham hireling, stole 67.

Kiki Cuyler should easily sweep past Messinger's mark, for already he figures are far, far away.

Still, if the flashy Vol can average a base per game, he ought to be able to withstand no end of future assaults. Its a tiny assignment, but perhaps the Dixie flash can master it.

Misses Chance.

He squandered an excellent opportunity yesterday, however, for John Heving turned him back twice in the first affair, which the Vols dropped through inability to thump T. Long.

If Cuyler could get a lead it is highly doubtful if any receiver would be able to turn him back. But the Vol fly-chaser has his stations by beating the throw. He steals from base to base.

It will be no easy chore for Cuyler to leave a base per game in the remaining 33 duels which the Vols have on their card.

Still even should he fail to eclipse the record of Jimmy Johnston, the Vol fly-chaser will have focused considerable glare upon himself. For no gent in either major league has clicked off such an array of swiped bases.

MRS. LOWDOWNES DEFEATED IN ASHEVILLE TOURNAMENT

Barring of Ruth's Bat Causes Row in the Majors

Ban Johnson's Edict May Result in Legal Action By New York Yank Owners

Bat Is Shipped to American League President For Examination—Make Request That Ruling Be Reversed.

New York, August 17.—Another storm is brewing in the American league between President Ban Johnson and the New York Yankees. It promises to be as serious as the Carl Mays dispute which was carried into the courts and almost disrupted the American league.

Babe Ruth is the central figure in the impending row. His new bat, "Betsy Bingle," is the cause of the dispute that may cause Owner Yank to go as far as he did in the Mays case in order to prevent President Johnson's interference. Johnson has ruled that Ruth cannot use the bat.

On July 2 Ruth discarded his old style bat and started to use a new type, the invention of Sam Crawford, former star outfielder of the Detroit Americans. Ruth had been in a slump at the time. With the new bat he started on a batting spree that has brought his home run total to 23 and his average close to the .400 mark.

Crawford's bat, which has been named "Betsy Bingle," is constructed of four sections of the very best selected wood, so that it is uniform throughout and can be held in any manner by the batsman without paying any attention to the grain of the wood. The four sections are glued together. So cleverly are the bats made that it is impossible to determine where the sections are joined.

New Bat Costs $8.

Some idea of the care and expense of the construction of the bat can be gleaned from the fact that the new bat retails for $8, while the ordinary bat used by big league players costs only $2. There is much more drive to the new bat because of its unusual construction.

After permitting Babe to use the bat for six weeks, President Johnson has pronounced it illegal. In a letter to Manager Huggins, of the New York Yankees, Johnson says:

"The special bat George Ruth is now using does not conform to the regulations prescribed by the rules and must be discarded at once."

ANSLEY PARK GOLFERS WIN

Ansley park golfers are one up in the series of titles with the team representing the Druid Hills Golf club as a result of the matches played yesterday over the Ansley park course.

The triumph was a hard-fought one. The Ansley team, one point for each nine holes and another for the 18-hole match.

Eight golfers, divided into four foursomes competed. Ansley won two of the bouts and Druid Hills the same number, but by figures not so decisive as the former team's scores were generally good, due to no little degree to the excellent condition of the Ansley park course, which has improved remarkably this season under the expert attention of L. Warren Grenade, chairman of the greens committee and Tommy Wilson, recently installed as professional.

"Little Billy" Jones and Ben Jones topped the Ansley park point scores when they swept the match against "Terrible Tess" Bradshaw and "Big Bob" Jones, father of the national open champion. The Ansley park combination annexed three points by its magnificent victory.

The ground manager, Ansley park in this match, however, was soon lost when Dana Belser and Roger Jones, representing Druid Hills, came in three points up on Ben Jones and Lewis Cutter, Ansley park.

The fine game displayed by George Edmondson and Joe High Williams, of Ansley park, was matched fairly well by the Druid Hills golfers, Veary Rainwater and Etheridge, but the first named team won two points. Edmondson uncorked a 78 in this foursome.

Jess Daniel, the Ansley park links warrior, hero of a thousand pitched battles, partners with Dr. Grady Clay, fought valiantly against the expert sharpshooters of Lloyd Parks and L. L. Shivers, but lost one point for their club.

The Druid Hills golfers, who had never before played at Ansley park, were favorably impressed and expressed the hope that another battle soon will be arranged over the spoty course.

WILL DECIDE "RAGS" TODAY

BY M. D. GLEASON.

The baseball games in the amateur circles today are very important in three leagues as they decide the pennant races in these circuits. One of the most important bouts of the day is the Federal Prison, Georgia Railway Power company game in the City League.

This is a postponed engagement between these two clubs and if the Power leads win they cop the pennant, but if the Federal Prison wins it will be the two teams for first place and will call for another game later. This game will be played at Tech flats and not at Piedmont park as was first intended, and will be called at 3 o'clock. The change to Tech flats is due to the fact that the playground game will take place at Piedmont park.

Manager Pete Herault and Manager Bishop, each predict victory today, and say their men are in tip-top condition for the fray. Bishop's men had his men working out for two hours every morning and Herault has had his entries out every afternoon.

Keys Will Pitch

Herault says that Keys will do the pennant winning pitching, but Bishop argues his big league pitcher, Turk Turner, will bring home the bacon. The big band of the Georgia Railway Power company will furnish music for the day.

The Spring Bed and the Whittier Mills teams will play the game which will decide the pennant in the Manufacturers league today. This game will also be played at Tech flats, but as there are two diamonds far enough apart so as not to interfere with each other, they are sure to have their share of the big crowd of the day.

The pennant race in the Perrin Sunday School league will also be decided today. The flag goes to the club that wins the game at Fort McPherson between the Pace Setters and Boothians. These clubs have had a warm race all season. As these six clubs previously mentioned want one of those big cups that Tom Pitts has up for grabs, they are sure to be three hard fought ball games offered free to the Atlanta public today.

Sally League

GREENVILLE WINS SHORT GAME.

Greenville, S. C., August 17.—White Clark was holding Augusta to four hits, six runs and two errors in the sixth inning and was relieved by Fowler. The series today 3 to 1. Layne's pitch and Spencer's double scored the Tigers' only run in the sixth inning. The result of the game was a costly error by Spencer in the third inning.

Rhinhardt and Bittles led the local stick work. Rhinhardt hit a triple and Bittles a double. The score at the end of the sixth inning was 3 to 1. Layne's pitch and Spencer's double scored the Tigers' only run in the sixth inning. The result of the game was a costly error by Spencer in the third inning.

ARGENTINA FANS EXCITED OVER FIGHT

Buenos Aires, August 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Only the expense and length of a journey to New York are preventing large numbers of Argentine fans from attending the fight between Firpo and Dempsey next month. There is the keenest public interest in the fight in all the South American countries. The Argentine press is full of columns of discussions over Firpo's prospects, criticisms of his training, and all kinds of data on their respective physical characteristics. The Argentine press is full of columns of discussions over Firpo's prospects, criticisms of his training, and all kinds of data on their respective physical characteristics.

Several newspapers are offering prizes to those who most nearly predict the outcome of the fight. Firpo's North American nickname, "Wild Bull of the Pampas," has tickled the popular fancy and is quoted frequently.

The gammer Pan-America, which left for New York yesterday with a party of Argentine boxing enthusiasts who want to see the fight, expect to pick up two Uruguayan and Brazilian fans who have the same object in view at Montevideo and Rio Janeiro.

STROBERTS RACE WINNER

Toledo, August 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—The 2:07 trot, biggest event of the closing day's program of the second and final Grand Circuit racing meet at Fort Miami track, was won by Stroberts, driven by A. B. Willis, which took the second and third miles after losing the first in the heat. The winner's best time, 2:05 3/4.

My Rose Bud, Pop Geers' heavily backed entry, placed in the first heat, but was fifth in the next two heats. The 2:20 trot went to Tom Murphy with Count Bugle by winning the first and third heats. Losing the second to Fred Egan's Lady Bonadama, which was the pacesetter in each attempt. Egan pulled wide in his effort to head Count Bugle in the finish of the third heat.

Cigarettes, heavily played favorite, was drawn from the third heat of the 2:14 pace after losing only to Little George in the first mile and trailing ninth in the second. Egan, by chasing him into a drive, kept him and after juggling the lines with Seph Palia the judges finally put Palia in the sulky. There was some dispute first. Egan first won his seat without permission. The event was won by Egan Direct's heir which nosed out Elv Direct in the third mile after winning the second.

The Wayne 2:02 pace was cancelled when horsemen failed to enter enough starters to make a race.

SPARTANBURG WIN SUB-YEST.

Gastonia, N. C., August 17.—Spartanburg won the Combos out of a win here this afternoon by the score of 7 to 6, with only being called after eight innings. A heavy rain, the visitors registration. The winners by the eighth inning when Moore doubled to left and later scored on a slugging single to right by Lambright.

University of Illinois Stars Succeed as Coaches

Illinois Athletes Are Becoming More and More in Demand by Schools Each Day.

Urbana, Ill., August 17.—(Special.)—Former University of Illinois athletes are in demand as coaches. The training which they received from the Illinois coaches has proved valuable, while some have taken the course in athletic coaching.

Dave Wilson, captain of the 1922 football team, is coaching in Waite High school, Toledo, Ohio, and J. S. Prescott is at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

John Sabo, end in 1921, will go to West High, Aurora, G. F. Bennett has signed again with Moine High school, while H. B. Tabor will return to Benton as director of athletics.

Ralph Fletcher will coach again at East High, while his brother, Bob, goes back to Findlay, Ohio. George D. Bronson, long Urbana coach, will go to Houston, Texas, as director of physical education in the public schools.

C. E. Crossley will again be at Quincy as coach. "Doc" Dougherty will coach baseball at Connecticut Wesleyan, Middletown, Conn. Tom Johnson, former baseball captain, will coach at Marietta, Wis., where he has been successful. Leon Arbuckle, for years has been baseball coach at Rice Institute, Houston, Texas.

W. S. Collins moves to Northwestern college at Evanston, W. H. Halas, former Notre Dame baseball coach, will be at St. Mary's college, Emmetsburg, Md. R. F. Dvorak will coach at the University of Urbana, while E. F. Partridge will coach at Cornell.

ALLEN HURLS TWO INNINGS BY KNOCKOUT

Buford, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—Victor Allen, who is in what you might call the prime of life returned to the diamond today after several years lay-off and pitched two creditable innings against the National Crack team, of Atlanta, which was defeated by the Buford Shoemakers, 5 to 1.

Mr. Allen, in his two-frame session on the mound allowed but one hit, Vic, with his brother John Allen, keeps the Shoemakers in the swim and his return to active service was quite a surprise.

The Shoemakers Saturday got a Marietta for a game with that club, which they defeated in all of their meetings this season.

Jack Pritchard pitched seven innings against the Atlanta team and allowed but three hits. The Shoemakers connected for a total of 11 safe blows with Captain Lee Crow leading the attack, with three out of four.

Egan Settle was good for two out of four tries. Cannon hit a home-run.

BUFORD TEAM PLAYS TODAY

Buford, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—Marietta will be the objective of the Shoemakers Saturday, where they will engage in battle with the Marietta nine. The two teams have met several times this season, and each meeting has resulted in a Buford victory.

Next week the Shoemakers face a difficult task in a three-game series with the Cartersville club, which is their strongest rival as claimant to the state amateur title. The Shoemakers at present hold the edge as they have lost but eight games, while Cartersville has faltered in ten starts.

However, that difference will be eliminated in the three-day session, which will have its beginning in Buford today and Wednesday, and which will be brought to a close in Gainesville Thursday.

John and Vic Allen, the powers that be behind the Buford club, are confident that their favorites will give a good account of themselves in the series and base their faith in the pitching ability of Andy Chambers, Jack Frost and Brownie Smith.

LANETT TEAM WINS EASILY

Langlet, Ala., August 17.—(Special.)—In a game witnessed by one of the largest crowds ever assembled at the Lanett park, Lanett defeated Lafayette today by a score of 9 to 3.

Features were the hitting of the entire Lanett team, which was led by Superintendent R. W. Jennings, of Lanett mills, gave one dollar for each hit made by players on the Lanett team.

The game was witnessed by 1,500 people.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Lanett.....000 200 000—9 1 0
Lafayette.....000 000 000—3 2 0
Batteries: Lanett, Allison and Palmasino; for Lafayette, Hawkins and Wicks. Umpires Williams and Wickham.

CHILDREN TO OFFER FIELD DAY PROGRAM

Children and proud parents of the thousands will flock to Piedmont park at 3 o'clock this afternoon to see the grand wind-up of Atlanta's 1923 playground season.

Nearly 300 little boys and girls of playground age will compete in a series of interesting and colorful events, each of 13 groups to dance, or run or just to play for the honor of his playground.

Trophies have been offered for the best child athletes, dancers and other winners in the field day and exhibition program. All the participants will be practicing for weeks for the big event.

The baseball grounds at the park will be cleared for the children from 3:30 until 5 o'clock in order that no child may be hit by a wild ball during the festivities.

A contest of folk dancing, each of the thirteen playgrounds being represented, will be a colorful feature of the program. A silver loving cup will be the trophy of this contest.

Another event will be the doll parade for little girls under six years of age, each playground winner represented by one child. The little ones will be costumed either as flowers or as dolls. Their dolls will be dressed similarly and their doll carriages will be decorated. Mr. Rich & Bros. Co. have donated a doll as first prize for this contest.

Races for the boys will be under the direction of C. D. Longshore, assistant physical training director of the Atlanta Young Men's Christian association. Prizes for these events have been furnished by Jacobs Pharmacy, King Hardware company, Norris, Nunnally, Block and Howard theater.

Madrox Park baseball team and Adair volleyball team, winners among city playgrounds in their respective fields, will be called forward by Mayor Sims to be awarded publicly the trophies they won.

Judges of the contests Saturday will be Mrs. Alonso Richardson, Mrs. Earl Sherwood Jackson, Mrs. S. S. Turner, Harry York, chairman of the park board, and Mayor Sims.

FIRPO BEATS JOE DOWNEY

Indianapolis, Ind., August 17.—Luis Angel Firpo, of the Argentine, decisively outpointed Joe Downey, of Cincinnati, in a 10-round exhibition bout at the Hoosier Motor speedway arena here tonight in the headline contest of a boxing show which was marked by a series of disorders in which times threatened to result in a riot.

Sheriff Snider, of Marion county, was at the ringside, on orders of Governor McCray, to stop the bout if in his opinion it assumed the proportions of a prize fight.

The bout was delayed for more than two hours due to a disagreement over the amount of money due the South American. The principals finally entered the ring at 11:25 o'clock. It was announced that due to the governor's orders, the bout would be a four-round exhibition affair. Both contestants wore 16-ounce gloves.

The first three rounds were exceedingly tame, neither boxer being able to inflict much damage with the large gloves. Firpo used his left hand almost entirely except in the third round when he missed two vicious right hooks.

Firpo began fighting more earnestly in the fourth round and spun Downey across the ring with a hard left jab. In the next two rounds he tore into his opponent, and began clubbing him with his right. Downey was hanging on at the end of the sixth round.

Downey was in a bad way when the seventh round opened, but fought back gamely and landed a stiff right to the South American's chin. Firpo resumed his attack during the next two rounds and gave Downey a terrific battering despite the fact that his large gloves were being used. The Ohio fighter hung hard to stay the limit, hung on during the last round. He was in distress when the round ended.

MISS VAN LANDINGHAM, Star Golfer of Charlotte, Wins From Ex-Southern Champ Dope Is Upset as North Carolina Golfer Wins Second Annual Invitation Tourney At Asheville Country Club.

Asheville, N. C., August 17.—(Special.)—In one of the most spectacular matches for women ever played on a local golf course, Miss Dene Van Landingham, of Charlotte, defeated Mrs. Dozier Lowndes, of Atlanta, runner-up for the southern title and the possessor of many golfing honors, in the final match today in the championship flight in the second annual invitation golf tournament of the Asheville Country club, the match ending on the 17 green, 2 and 1.

The Charlotte winner by her brilliant playing, especially on the greens, upset all predictions despite the fact that Mrs. Lowndes equalled her record breaking play of yesterday with an 87. Both golfers were in the rarest of form, the weather was ideal for golf and the course was lightning fast.

Miss Van Landingham, while not an ordinarily long driver, got good distances out of her tee shots and the final playing she was on the greens, as attested in the score as the direct cause for her victory inasmuch as Mrs. Lowndes played almost perfect golf.

The Charlotte girl had four par holes and one eagle and Mrs. Lowndes shot three holes in par and scored two eagles. Miss Van Landingham was leading five up at the turn but the Atlanta star staged a brilliant comeback, winning the tenth and eleventh holes, the 12th was halved, but the 13th was won by the Atlanta matron who had an eagle two. The next four holes were halved.

On the return Mrs. Lowndes won the first hole but the match was squared when Miss Van Landingham won No. 2. The Charlotte Miss went into the lead by winning the next hole only to lose the fourth. For the next five the Charlotte golfer played one of the most brilliant games for her short career. She had par figures for the fifth and sixth holes, an eagle for hole No. 7, one over par for the eighth and par for the ninth.

The final hole was played.

BOB ROPER KAYO WINNER

Anniston, Ala., August 17.—(Special.)—Captain Bob Roper, of Atlanta, knocked out "Terrier" Bailey, a local heavyweight in the third round of the scheduled ten-round bout here tonight.

Bailey put up an excellent fight for the first two rounds and was going good in the third until Roper sank a right in the pit of Bailey's stomach and the soldier fighter went down for the count.

MARIETTA IS LOSER 5 TO 4

Cartersville, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—In a game that was replete with all the thrills of baseball and which was not decided until the ninth inning, Cartersville came off the field today here Friday afternoon by the score of five to four, defeating Marietta.

For the visitors, Cy Hawkins and Jake Morris secured two hits each while the whole visiting team fielded in jam-up style. Starter, Marietta's pitcher was hit hard especially in the latter part of the contest. Lefty Willis, Oglethorpe's southpaw, was master of the situation throughout the game and gave up but eight scattered hits.

The fielding of Red Barron in center was sensational, the former Tech star gobbling them in his league style. He also lashed out two safe wallpats that meant runs. Stevenson who played left field performed like a veteran and at bat drove out a home run and a double, being called out on the home run by umpire who claimed he failed to touch second. McLane, Maunier hit Bryant also delivered beautifully with the willow.

Backed by loyal fans, the Cartersville team will remain intact during the remainder of the month, playing in Tate Saturday and a three game series in Buford beginning next Wednesday. The following week Buford comes to Cartersville for a three-game series.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Marietta.....000 110 011—4 8 3
Cartersville.....110 000 012—5 13 7
Batteries: Starnes and Walton; Willis and Bryant. Umpires, John Ray and Frank Barron. Time of game 2:15.

NEW HOLLAND LOSES 3 TO 2

Milledale, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—New Holland lost the third game of a seven-game series for the textile championship of Georgia to Milledale on the local ground today by the score of 3 to 2. The game went twelve innings, and was the hardest fought game played on the Milledale grounds this season.

"Speedy" Speer, had the best of White in a pitchers' battle until the twelfth frame, when Blackstock singled to score on Williams' double, for the only run Milledale earned.

New Holland hit White for fourteen safeties, while Milledale only hit safe eight times. The features of the game were four double plays by the New Holland infield, composed of Waldrop, Medlin, Porter and Allen, two coming in the extra innings.

Two wins will play four more games to decide the textile championship of the state.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
New Holland.....000 000 000—3 8 2
Milledale.....001 001 001—2 3 2
Batteries: New Holland: Speer and Gulleger; Milledale: White and Vandegriff. Umpire, Owen Pack.

Mrs. Mallory-Miss Wills Clash in Net Bout Today

Veteran Champion and Young Contender Battle for Woman's Singles Tennis Championship.

Forest Hills, N. Y., August 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—For the second successive year, Miss Helen Wills, 17-year-old tennis marvel, of Berkeley, Calif., will attempt to wrest the national singles championship from Mrs. Mollie Bursatella Mallory, of New York, but where a year ago the coast "wonder girl" proved no match for her veteran Norse rival, the brilliancy her name has reached this season has given her a new place in tennis that she will give the title holder one of the hardest struggles of her career, with at least an even chance of triumph.

Today Miss Wills and Mrs. Mallory won decisively in their semi-final matches on the turf courts of the West Side tennis club, proving conclusively their superiority over an international field of 61 players, the pick of American and British stars who started play in the tournament last Monday. Miss Wills finished the most spectacular game she has shown all week to crush Miss Eleanor Goss, of New York, 6-4, 6-0, while Mrs. Mallory brushed aside Britain's last hope in the singles when she defeated Mrs. R. C. Clayton, 6-4, 6-2.

The national doubles championship will witness an international contest, for the survivors of today's semi-final play were Miss Kathleen McKane and Mrs. Nancy Covel, of England, and the veteran American combination, Miss Goss and Mrs. Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman of Boston, a former holder of both the national singles and double titles.

Both teams gained their final round brackets easily and promise a pretty struggle for honors tomorrow. The British pair disposed of Mrs. Helen G. Lockhorn, of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Mrs. Natalie Morris, of New York, 6-0, 6-2, while Miss Goss and Mrs. Wightman gave a remarkable exhibition of court strategy in eliminating the youthful combination of Miss Goss Baker, of Orange, N. J., and Miss Lillian Sothman, of New York, 6-1, 6-1.

No Edge Displayed.

Dr. Campbell placed full responsibility for any excesses upon the shoulders of the student body. He made it known that no violation of the rules of good sportsmanship would be condoned by university officials, but he said, he felt confident that no student would transcend the proprieties.

Four-Power Pact And Naval Treaty Are Now in Force

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, August 17.—Seated about a table in the state department today, five men recorded the final approval of the powers for the treaty of the four powers for the treatment of the Japanese conference to end naval competition, terminate the Anglo-Japanese alliance, and sweep away the war clouds that have hovered for decades over the Pacific.

It was an epilogue to the Washington negotiations at which it had been planned to give their place of honor to President Harding at whose call the conference assembled; but instead the formal deposit of ratifications was performed almost without ceremony. Secretary Hughes and his colleagues met in the diplomatic reception room in the presence of only a handful of spectators, including officials of the department, messengers, and representatives of the press.

Amassador Hanihara acted for Japan and the other powers were represented by the charges of their embassies here, H. O. Chilton for Great Britain, Captain Andre de la Boulaye for France, and Augusto Rosso for Italy.

To Scrap Ships Forfeit.

Mr. Hughes sat at the head of the table, with the foreign diplomats facing each other at the sides. Without preliminary the secretary stated the purpose of the gathering, and added that at a preliminary meeting in his office the ratifications had been examined and found complete. He then held up a paper embodying the American ratification and placed it in the center of the table.

"I herewith deposit the ratifications of the United States," he said. "The others followed suit, each pronouncing the same formula. Then documents containing the ratifications of the day and the hour at which the treaties became effective were passed from hand to hand for signature.

By pre-arrangement, a telephone flash went to the navy department at the moment the last name had been written on the naval limitation pact. The ink had not dried on the signatures before orders were speeding over the wires which mean the striking of 750,000 tons in fighting ships, new, and old, from the navy list. The process of scrapping will begin at once.

Ends Anglo-Jap Alliance.

The process verbal which is to form a permanent record of the coming into effect of the naval treaty embodies the reservation adopted by France, stipulating that the 5-3-2 ratio established among the five powers as to capital ships cannot be construed as applying also to the smaller types of war craft, big gun cruisers, and destroyers.

The "no alliance" reservation adopted by the United States senate, denying any obligation to use armed force under the provisions of the four-power treaty, was made a part of the process verbal by which that pact was made effective. Termination of the Anglo-Japanese alliance is automatic under the terms of the four-power agreement.

In addition to these, ratifications also were exchanged on the supplemental treaty, drawn up to clarify the terms of the four-power pact. It declares that in binding themselves to consult together over controversy arising in the Pacific, the four signatories—the United States, Great Britain, Japan and France—are not obligated to submit for discussion any question which lies exclusively within domestic jurisdiction.

The scrapping of war craft, which will begin immediately under the naval treaty, will be carried out by different means for the various ships affected. The treaty provides specifically that the scrapping of a warship must comprise such destruction of offensive and defensive elements as will place it "in such condition that it can not be put to combatant use."

This result may be effected by "permanent sinking," by breaking the vessel up with attendant destruction or removal of "all machinery, boilers, armor and deck, side and bottom plating," or by converting the vessel to target use exclusively. The number of vessels which can be used for targets is strictly limited.

All ships listed for scrapping must be rendered "unseizable for purposes of war" within six months from today, and the actual break-up must be finished within 18 months.

From latest advices to the navy department, the following summary of made today of the progress in the several limitation programs abroad prior to exchange of ratification:

British Empire—Total to be scrapped, 24 oil ships of 500,000 tons, new ships, none. Proposed construction of four capital ships abandoned before keels were laid and work began on two capital ships of smaller tonnage; 18 old ships rendered incapable of war service; 17 already having been sold.

Japan—Total to be scrapped, ten old ships of 163,000 tons and two new ships of 77,000 tons. Work on the capital ships held in state of suspension since signing of treaty and armament removed from 9 obsolete ships.

France and Italy—Navies not affected by scrapping programs.

THREE ARE SHOT IN LIQUOR RAID QUARREL

they could prove he was protecting certain bootleggers. I told them if they could prove this to go ahead and get a warrant.

Expected "Frame-Up."

"From the manner in which these men talked," Armistead said, "I felt that they were going to frame up on this officer. Hames left with the remark, 'I will get him one way or another.'"

"I called up police station and had Stigall come to my office and he told me that the three men had been trying to 'frame' him, going to negro houses and trying to secure affidavits for the purpose of injuring him with his superior officers."

"I told Stigall of the conversation in my office when these three men told me they would get him one way or another, and under the circumstances I think that Officer Stigall is justified and should be congratulated for his marksmanship in shooting to protect himself. We have had too many officers killed."

Stigall told officers on his return to police station that he had shot only after Hames and Kirk advanced on him threateningly with their hands in their pistol pockets. He then emptied his pistol into the three, hitting Hames three times, Kirk twice and Stanton once. None of the three as far as could be learned Friday night, had displayed pistols when Stigall began shooting and no shots were fired save the six from Stigall's gun.

Stigall asserted that the three had been plotting to "frame" him and "get his job" in revenge for his operations against bootleggers and disorderly women, and that he believed they intended to kill him when he shot. The scene of the shooting was a busy street corner before dark.

Stanton, the only one of the wounded trio able to make a statement, denied that he had been trying to injure Stigall and denied any knowledge of a plot against the officer.

Hames, Kirk and Stanton had been in the Fraser street district Thursday afternoon, Stigall said he had been informed, arranging with several negroes to "frame up" on him. The negroes, he said, were to have placed a specified quantity of whisky in a house, informed him of its presence there, and accompanied him on a raid of the place. After the raid, other negroes were to swear that more liquor had been seized than Stigall had reported to police authorities.

Stanton admitted that the three had been on Fraser street Thursday afternoon, Stigall said he had been informed, arranging with several negroes to "frame up" on him. The negroes, he said, were to have placed a specified quantity of whisky in a house, informed him of its presence there, and accompanied him on a raid of the place. After the raid, other negroes were to swear that more liquor had been seized than Stigall had reported to police authorities.

Friday afternoon Stigall was driving down Courtland and stopped near Houston, where he saw Stanton and Hames. He got out and the three engaged in conversation while Wallace waited in Stigall's car.

"Frame-Up" Alleged.

"I understand you are trying to frame up on me to get my job," Stigall said he told Hames.

"I'm not trying to frame up on you," Hames was quoted as replying. "I have been investigating your work for the police committee and the police committee knows all about it."

"If I'd found you yesterday I would have burned powder," Stigall retorted. At this juncture, Stigall walked up and reproved Stigall for the raid on an apartment at 7 Forrest avenue sometime ago as a result of which charges were preferred against Kirk for which he was later discharged from the force.

Exchange of remarks became heated, according to Stigall, until Hames, his hand on his hip suddenly stepped forward, saying, "Damn you, I'll get you now."

"Out of the corner of my eye I saw Kirk reach for his pocket, too," Stigall said. "I knew they both hated me and I thought they were going to shoot. I whipped out my gun and emptied it at the three of them."

Hames had been an investigator in the office of Solicitor-General John Boykin at one time but had been discharged because of objectionable activities in trying to secure the release from prison of Oscar Howell, former policeman convicted of violating prohibition laws.

wore a peach-colored velvet gown and peach hat to match. Her rolling chair was decorated with green crepe paper and southern roses.

Miss Gurr received her greatest ovation. Reports from Atlantic City at the time stated that she was applauded for fifteen minutes the ovation counting that according to Roosevelt on the occasion of his visit to the resort. The crowd was insistent that Miss Gurr be awarded first honor, and at least two of the judges voted for her before the final choice was made.

Miss Gurr was chaperoned during her stay in Atlantic City by her mother, Mrs. Fort E. Land, who, while regretting that her daughter did not win first honor, was none the less enthusiastic over the reception accorded Miss Gurr.

TEXAS RANGERS ARREST SHERIFF IN LASH PROBE

Amarillo, Texas, August 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Sheriff Less Abney of Potter county, was placed under arrest shortly before nine o'clock tonight on complaints of conspiracy and accomplices, filed by Texas Ranger Captain P. A. Hamey, in connection with the kidnapping, tarred and feathering of E. E. McDonald, bridge worker, Wednesday.

Abney's bond was set at $2,500 on each charge by Justice C. G. Landis, which was made soon after. Four arrests had been made in the case up to the time the sheriff was arrested.

Klan in Final Phase Of Deal To Purchase Valparaiso University

Valparaiso, Ind., August 17.—Although final articles transferring ownership of Valparaiso university to the Ku Klux Klan were not signed today, all preliminary details of the transaction have been completed, and the deal will be closed probably tonight by Milton Elrod, editor of the Fiery Cross, official publication of the Klan.

Elrod, and C. C. Watkins, official conference with university officials, left tonight for headquarters of the Klan at Atlanta, Ga., where they decided upon the purchase of the university will be worked out with national officials of the organization.

Atlanta Building Expected to Reach $40,000,000 Mark

Atlanta building permits for 1923 will reach $40,000,000 if statistics furnished by the E. W. Dodge corporation, building statisticians, are sustained for the remaining five months of the year. The total given out by the report of the corporation for the past seven months is $30,800,700.

The total for August to date is nearly $800,000 indicating a $2,000,000 month, and if the next five months keeps a mean average of $2,000,000 the $40,000,000 mark can easily be reached.

Figures of the Dodge report for the state indicates that building in Georgia for July dropped 14 per cent over June. Forty-two per cent of the building for July was residential, 24 per cent for public buildings, public utilities, 16 per cent for business buildings, and the remaining 18 per cent was classed as miscellaneous.

$500,000 STREET PAVING PROGRAM IS PLANNED

As soon as sewers, curbs, water pipes and other items are put in shape, contracts can be let for forty other projects.

"The guarantee fund was entirely unnecessary," Councilman Claude L. Ashley, chairman of the streets committee, said Friday. "The city puts the paving contractors under bond to maintain the streets for five years after the paving is laid and the city is bound to keep them in shape after that whether a guarantee fund is provided or not."

The $240,000 already appropriated to the fund will have to remain in the city treasury until 1923 when it will be available for use in repairs on the streets against which it was appropriated, it was stated Friday by City Attorney James L. Mayson.

Paving Projects.

MORE ENTRANTS IN BEAUTY CONTEST

panied to The Constitution by their mothers, and all have expressed pleased gratification at the high standard of the tournament.

Four Days Left.

Entries will be accepted only through next Wednesday, which means that only four more days remain. Beautiful girls should not wait for the end of the tournament to enter. They should submit their photographs to the beauty contest editor of The Constitution, on the fourth floor, today. They should bring photographs of themselves to The Constitution in person and assure themselves of the fact that the tournament is fair, impartial and high-toned.

And, above all, they should remember that the modern-day appreciates fresh beauty and charm with the same clean-souled and whole-hearted approval as it did in the days when their grandmothers, in powdered curls and face patches, were toasted as reigning beauties.

Spirit of Chivalry.

A prosaic world may have discarded the custom of chivalry, but the same keen appreciation and chivalric reverences for fresh beauty and charm will never die.

It's the same old world, after all, and the romance of the periwigged and bewigged age of keen rapiers and derring do are bred in the bone of its new generation.

As for "Miss Atlanta," a myriad of bewildering carnival delights await her at the most famous ocean playground on the North American continent when she goes to match her charms with the beauties of a hundred other cities.

Great Carnival Event.

Glittering balls, a roller chair pageant as colorful as the jousts of chivalry, all the delights of the surf and the fashionable boardwalk, a bathing review and swimming events—honors and pleasures of all kinds await her.

From the mayor to her nearest citizen—big-hearted Atlantic City will throw wide her doors and join in honoring the beauty contenders in a week of supreme fun and entertainment.

And not one penny of expense will be incurred by "Miss Atlanta" or the champion she will choose to accompany her.

The time is short and action is imperative. Read the rules below and get in line to be "Miss Atlanta."

RULES OF CONSTITUTION'S BEAUTY TOURNAMENT.

All beautiful girls who desire to enter the tournament conducted by The Constitution for the selection of "Miss Atlanta" in the International Beauty Tournament must observe the following rules:

All entrants must be unmarried and residents of Atlanta, Fulton county, or that part of Atlanta lying in DeKalb county.

Each entrant must mail or bring to the Beauty Tournament Editor of The Constitution a photograph of herself, preferably in clear-cut black and white. Clear pictures in sepia, however, will be accepted provided they are sufficiently distinct to reproduce in newspaper illustrations.

Each entrant should strive to send in an art photograph (not in colors) which presents her beauty in a pose that sets it off at best advantage. In all cases where entrants have pictures of themselves in attractive bathing attire, one of these should be included with the photograph. This, however, is not necessary to entrance.

Photographs must be received by the Beauty Tournament Editor between the dates Sunday, August 12, and Wednesday, August 22, at 6 o'clock night. Each photograph must have plainly written or printed on the back the name, address and phone number of the contestant.

It is preferable that entrants bring their photographs in person to the Beauty Tournament Editor on the fourth floor of The Constitution between the hours of 12 and 3 in the afternoon. This provision is not necessary to entrance, but is advisable.

Atlanta's School Growth.

"People don't understand why we need more money after we have just had one bond issue. The reason is that they don't clearly realize Atlanta's enormous growth," Mr. McCalley said. "Atlanta's increase in public school children during the last three years is equal in itself to the entire school registration of the second largest city in Georgia."

Superintendent of School Willis A. Sutton, who returned Thursday after an absence of all summer in California, refused to become involved in the verbal warfare between the board and the mayor but did declare that Atlanta will need $5,000,000 more bonds next year. He said Atlanta's curriculum and teaching standards are as high as any in America and that school buildings are the system's only need. He said he would inaugurate the teaching of more American history and better American citizenship in the schools.

Of School Board

"The Girls' High school is going to be built," W. L. McCalley, chairman of the finance committee of the board of education declared Friday afternoon on his return to Atlanta from a vacation trip. He called on Mayor Sims, who has kept the school board under fire for the last week, since the receipt of a financial statement from the board which he found to show insufficient funds left for the erection of the Girls' High building. The mayor was not in his office when McCalley left before his return.

Mr. McCalley indicated that he would not look kindly upon a councilmanic investigation of the school board's expenditure of the bond money.

Record of Expenditures.

"If they want to find out where the money went they can find it in the comptroller's office," he said. "There is a record of every dollar spent."

When told that such an investigation would be for the purpose of finding why the money has been spent without providing high schools and not to check up on the board's honesty, he asserted the experts' survey of Atlanta school needs would show that.

Bessie Tift College Alumnae Hold Luncheon

An interesting event of Friday was the luncheon given by the Bessie Tift alumnae in the rainbow room of the Ansley hotel.

The long luncheon table was decorated with silver baskets of pink gladioli and other summer flowers. The college colors of blue and gold were developed in the color motif of the place cards and other appointments.

Following the luncheon a meeting of the alumnae was held. Mrs. Roy Calhoun, president, tendered her resignation, and Mrs. Jesse T. Daniel, prominent and representative member of the organization, was elected to fill this position.

The other officers nominated were: Mrs. B. F. Johnson, vice president; Mrs. Ernest Ramspeck, recording secretary; Miss Florence Stephenson, treasurer, and Mrs. John D. Tiller, corresponding secretary. Mrs. John Carter, chairman of the nominating committee, read the report of officers that were voted upon.

Present on this occasion were Mrs. George Cox, Mrs. Roy Calhoun, Mrs. Roy Bennett, Mrs. John Carter, Mrs. Charles Dempsey, Miss Lillie Childs, Mrs. W. T. Jones, Mrs. L. H. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. E. P. Wright, Mrs. Charles Chambers, Mrs. Mangham, Mrs. Gen. try, Mrs. L. N. Fickett and Miss Minnie Anna Woodliff.

Piedmont W. C. T. U. To Hold Meeting. The Piedmont W. C. T. U. meets this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Wesley Memorial church. All members are urged to be present.

Patronesses named for the curb market Saturday are Mrs. Norman Sharp, chairman of the curb market committee and first vice president of the Atlanta Woman's Club; Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, president of the Woman's club; Mrs. T. R. Harmon, Mrs. O. H. Matthews, Mrs. John R. Hornaday, Mrs. George Turner, Mrs. W. F. Melton, Mrs. W. D. Williamson, Mrs. A. P. Treadwell, Mrs. Charles Goodman, Mrs. W. D. Alexander, Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith.

Thousands of Atlanta housekeepers who patronize the curb market of Edgewood avenue and Butler street are now enjoying the fresh figs, sweet grapes, cantaloupes and other fruits direct from the farm and oftentimes fresh with the morning dew.

"It is a great advantage to people living in a city the size of Atlanta," said Mrs. Norman Sharp, "to be able to enjoy the fresh products of the farm, as they are enabled to do through the municipal curb market, and it is the desire of the market committee that every woman in the city will become familiar with this advantage in order that she may enjoy the privilege it offers."

Mrs. Vivins Is Honored. Mrs. Henry Earhman was hostess at a beautiful bridge party on Friday afternoon at her home on Candler street in Decatur, in honor of her aunt, Mrs. H. W. Vivins, of Clearwater, Fla.

Quantities of yellow flowers were used to decorate the house, and the refreshments were carried out in yellow.

Forty-eight guests were invited to meet the honor guest.

Talented Child Visits Atlanta For Convention

Little Miss Pearl Appleby Costes, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Appleby, of New Orleans, La., and Beaumont, Texas, is in Atlanta with her grandparents who are attending the International Typographical Union convention.

This pretty, curly-haired little girl is a very talented elocutionist, and is a student of the New Orleans College of Oratory. She gave a most entertaining part of the program at the roofgarden party at the Ansley hotel on Saturday evening, and was heard again in a most humorous selection at the luncheon Wednesday at the Atlanta Woman's club.

In New Orleans, little Miss Costes lends her talent to all charities and was among the entertainers during the recent Confederate reunion held there.

Her grandfather, Mr. Appleby, was a member of the composing room force of The Constitution some thirty-five years ago.

Mr. Shippen Issues Wedding Cards. William Henry Shippen has issued invitations to the marriage of his daughter, Bessie Marie, and Dr. David Louis Hoppe, which will take place Saturday, August 25, at high noon, at "Kenneth Knob," in Ellijay, Georgia.

Mrs. L. R. Adams entertained at

Atlanta Woman's Club Scene of Lovely Parties

The regular weekly afternoon tea at the Atlanta Woman's club Friday assembled a large number of club members, visitors and friends who gathered to play bridge and enjoy the delicious refreshments for which this club is famous.

Golden glow and shasta daisies were profusely arranged throughout the club rooms and banquet hall.

Mrs. J. Edgar Hunnicutt, Jr., a recent bride, was the honor guest at one of the larger parties entertained by Miss Mary Rice, Mrs. Hunnicutt, who, before her recent marriage, was Miss Margaret Wilcox, of Berlin, Conn., is a charming addition to the younger married contingent and the recipient of many social attentions.

Party for Montgomery Visitor. Mrs. Jesse Roberts, of Montgomery, Ala., the guest of Mrs. Howard McCutcheon, was complimented with a pretty party at which Mrs. McCutcheon entertained. The guests were seated at a long table in the banquet hall which was tastefully appointed.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Harry Jones, Mrs. John Stone, Mrs. Angel, Mrs. M. Boyd, Mrs. B. M. Carr, Mrs. Cretcher, Mrs. J. N. Sparlock, Mrs. John Jeter, Mrs. Eugene Wright, Mrs. J. W. Gibson, Mrs. McCue, of St. Petersburg, Fla.; Mrs. Cecil Walkley, Mrs. M. B. Currie, Mrs. R. M. Lovlett, Mrs. Harry Ewing, Mrs. W. G. Alexander, Mrs. Hopkins and Mrs. J. W. Alexander.

Mrs. L. R. Adams entertained at a bridge party in compliment to Mrs. Earl Holmes, of Tampa, Fla., and Mrs. Frank Wilhoit, who, before her recent marriage was Miss Katherine Hale.

Twelve friends were invited to meet the honor guests.

Miss Charlotte Templeton, and Miss Beverly Wheatcroft were the central figures at a party given by Mrs. John King Otley. Miss Wheatcroft has resigned as secretary of the state library commission, to go to Greenville, S. C., to take charge of the public library. Miss Wheatcroft succeeds Miss Templeton.

Mrs. W. R. Bean Hostess. Mrs. W. R. Bean entertained in compliment to Mrs. O. J. Deanes, Jr., of Opelika, Ala. Invited to meet the honor guest were Mrs. Arch Conway, Mrs. J. McLarty, Mrs. I. S. Oliff, Mrs. B. F. Barger, Mrs. W. A. Byers and Mrs. L. B. Mell.

Another interesting party was that entertained by Mrs. L. M. Lively in honor of her sister, Mrs. T. H. Mitchell, of Thomasville, Ga.; Miss Irene Davis and Mrs. George Bages, of Camilla, Ga. There were twenty guests present.

Others entertaining included Mrs. John Oswald Wynn, Miss Katherine Crabb, Mrs. Virgil Perryman, Mrs. George Hinman and Miss Lucy Tucker.

EXCLUSIVE OPTICAL SERVICE

Many patients pay for unsatisfactory glasses furnished by optical firms who claim to sell for a trifle less than the legitimate optical man. Glasses are like diamonds, they have a market value and when they are sold for less than the market value there is sure to be something wrong somewhere. The first thing you notice in Ballard's glasses is the comfortable feeling of your frame adjustments by the Ballard service which is not always found elsewhere. The second thing you notice is you have gotten rid of that nagging or tired feeling you often experience from glasses where there is some little something left out. We have thousands of patients all over the states who will vouch for this statement. Ask any of them.

Miss Adamson, of Auburn, N. Y., Is Delegate to I. T. U. Convention

Miss Mary Adamson, who was sent to Atlanta to the 88th session of the International Typographical union to represent the local union of Auburn, N. Y., is another woman of that body in whom confidence has been reposed that indicates that the judgment is well placed. Miss Adamson is a quiet reserved young woman and exceptionally well fitted to represent her people and the quiet but deliberate manner in which she conducts herself when momentous questions are before the convention, is easily recognized as that type of woman who can take her part in deciding that which is best for her constituents. "Like all the women of the labor movement who enjoy the beneficence of the plan," said Miss Adamson, "I fully understand just what I owe to those men who take us into such a splendid organization. We women who toil for our bread from the recent demonstration of our supreme court in denying to women even a minimum wage, is proof conclusive that it is to the men who compose the labor movement we always have to turn to establish wage conditions. They do not leave us to the fate of legislation. Through collective bargaining, they have given us what the only way we have ever known, and have established a living wage for us."

Miss Adamson has an extended record as a labor representative, and has been secretary-treasurer of her local union for the past three years. She has been a delegate to the Empire Typographical Union convention, and is one of the most interesting members of the organization.

CHAPTER XVI
A Celebrity Talks.

Gloria quite expected to have a telephone message from Larry Gordon the next day, but none came. By afternoon she felt cross with him, and more so with herself. She was a fool to let it go to her head when he was just ordinarily polite, she told herself, trying to ignore the fact that for Larry Gordon to kiss one's hand was not an act of ordinary politeness. But when Frank Carver phoned her, she was unusually pleasant, and that evening she went out with him.

Her mind was still full of the woman she had met at dinner the evening before. She wanted to talk to Frank Carver about Mrs. Baker, and tell him how nice it was to meet anyone so nice and motherly, who seemed so much interested in you. But before they had finished their first course, she realized that his thoughts were far away, unless she was talking about him, or he was talking about himself. Discarding her acquaintance of the night before as a topic of conversation, she tried to talk of a new play she had seen, and of the developments in a strike that was claiming the country's attention. The new play fell flat; he had not seen it, and so could not give his opinion. The strike brought fire. "They want me to advise the mine operators if it comes to arbitration," he announced. "Those fellows don't know where they stand. I may have to run out and look over the ground; I like to get my knowledge first-hand. Now, at the time of the trouble in Colorado—"

For the third time Gloria heard the tale of what he had done at the time of the trouble in Colorado. All sorts of impish desires danced through her head. She longed to pick up the table cloth by its four corners and dump it and its contents into his lap; she wanted to spin the plates on the polished floor; anything to escape this deadly boredom. She couldn't even think about Larry, for he kept pausing and expecting her to comment on what he'd said. At last she decided on a plan: whenever he paused she exclaimed "Wonderful!" or "Oh, think of it!" in admiring accents—nothing more was needed. She was tempted to substitute "How absolutely ghastly," and see if he'd come out of his haze of conceit long enough to realize what she said, if the tone of the voice was still one of admiration. But dinner came to an end without her making the trial.

"Want to go somewhere and dance?" he asked. "Oh, no!" Gloria exclaimed; he was too old of dance—he was too self-conscious to get the toddle at all; he did steps—regular dancing school steps—with a regularity that was maddening. Then, realizing that she had been rather hasty, she added, "It's so awfully warm, and I'm so tired—" with a little sigh that suddenly seemed hideously languishing, considered in the light of his fatuous smile. "Good heaven—he thinks I'm eager for the drive home alone with him," she told herself with a sinking heart, as they waited for his car.

"What you need is a bit of air," he told her, authoritatively. "We'll drive up the Hudson a bit."

Gloria didn't want to drive up the Hudson a bit; she wanted to go home and see if there was any message from Larry. It was three days now since she had seen him; usually he phoned every day. Could he be ill? Ought she to phone the paper and see if anything had happened to him? She didn't want to do that—she was sure that men hated having women telephone their offices. Valerie never did it, she knew—and Valerie knew all there was to know about men! Oh, well, he hadn't phoned if he didn't want to; she didn't care what he did! She curled up in a corner of the wide seat, and then, realizing that Frank Carver was unusually silent, glanced over at him. His eyes met hers steadily. Suddenly she had an uncomfortable premonition that he was going to ask her to marry him.

"Oh, dear—I said I'd marry a man who was a celebrity—but I don't want this one!" she thought with a sinking heart. (Copyright, 1923, for The Constitution.)

Mrs. Clark Booth will entertain at a small bridge-luncheon today at her apartment in the Park Court on Piedmont avenue in compliment to her guest, Mrs. Jack T. Stallings, of Birmingham, Ala.

Invited to meet the honor guest are Mrs. W. E. Lambright, Mrs. J. P. B. Allen, Mrs. C. H. Winstead, Mrs. O. S. Miller, Mrs. Dan Stevens and Mrs. C. E. of Louisville, Ky.

BEAUTY CHATS

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.

This afternoon I've been reading a pamphlet on treating superfluous hair. It's a most discouraging pamphlet; it doesn't seem to think much of any form of treatment. Depilatories which contain anything strong enough to destroy the hair will hurt the skin, it says, and there I thoroughly agree with it.

If depilatory powder is ever used, it should be left on only long enough to cut off the hair at the surface of the skin, and washed away before the skin is at all irritated. But this requires careful calculation, for some skins are much more sensitive than others.

The x-ray treatment which destroys the hair is also said to destroy the glands of the skin. Electrolysis, or the electric needle treatment, destroys only the root of the hair and is permanent in effect and harmless. But there is often a return of from 10 to 50 per cent of the hairs, so the face has to be gone over several times. It requires careful calculation, for some skins are much more sensitive than others.

The pamphlet I have been reading says not to use tweezers for the large hairs, but here I differ with it. You can use tweezers for coarse hairs, but touch the spot at once with peroxide of hydrogen. Always beware of remedies that promise too much.

G. B. P.—As your teeth retained this yellowish tint even after that professional cleaning it must be natural and any bleaching of them would probably not be becoming to you, in addition to which it might injure the enamel.

Men—Diluted witch hazel or any good toilet water will give you temporary relief from an oily skin; but to overcome it one must put the system in a healthy condition. The trouble usually comes from poor elimination, or sluggish digestion. Try drinking plenty of water, and go on a diet.

Dorothy A. E.—Your pimples are probably only the result of a temporary condition; if you do not aggravate it by eating too many sweets and other very rich food, you will have a clear skin again in a short time. Many growing girls, and boys too, are troubled this way for a short time in their teens. (Copyright, 1923, for The Constitution.)

Georgia Girl Lectures at Yale Library School

The many friends in Atlanta of Miss Lily M. Dodgen, of Bartow county, well known librarian, will be interested to know that she is lecturing in the library division of the summer normal school, Yale university.

Miss Dodgen is best known in Georgia for her fine work with the public library of Savannah. For the last two years she has been connected with the library and its training school in the State Normal School at Trenton, N. J. So successful has been the work of Miss Dodgen that it has attracted wide-spread attention from librarians. In recognition of her signal ability practice pupils have been sent to her by Miss Rathbone, of Pratt institute, and Mrs. Max Holland, of Drexel institute.

What Women Wear

BY ANNE RITTENHOUSE

Perfumed Gloves and Cinderella Slippers Are Sent from France for Women in Search of Novel Accessories.

Accessories—those innumerable essential non-essentials of dress—are multiplying daily. To be sure there has never been a time when fashion did not demand accessories. Our clothes essentials never achieved the simplicity of sleeping bags to cover us completely and adequately from head to foot in one piece, but we have got along with fewer accessories than usual, first during the war years and then during the years when fashion at least was undergoing serious reconstruction.

Before many seasons have passed we shall be wondering how we ever considered ourselves well dressed without gloves. For the nonce you hear both opinions—that gloves are an utterly unnecessary and inartistic hang-over from mid-Victorian days;

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Attractive Cold Slaw.
A grated carrot added to the cabbage when making cold slaw makes a mighty pretty dish.

Easier to Serve.
When putting together a two-layer cake place the bottoms together. Then when the cake is cut the bottom will be crusty and not so likely to fall apart.

To Wash Corsets.
Spread the corsets out flat on the kitchen table, removing the laces but not the boning, and scrub with a brush and warm soapy water. Rinse quickly in warm water and dry in the sun, spread out flat.

Spots on Furniture.
White spots on furniture can be removed by rubbing with a cloth moistened with ammonia. But have a cloth wrung out of cold water ready to wipe off the surface as soon as the ammonia has been applied. Rub dry with a soft chamois.

Fine Blouses.
Never hang crepe de chine ororgette blouses out to dry but wrap them in a Turkish towel. The moisture will be absorbed very quickly and in about an hour they will be just ready to iron. The blouse will keep its color longer if this method is employed.

less, but you may wear gloves without being regarded as a trifle old-fashioned. And your gloves may be ornate. Inconspicuousness used to be considered a virtue in gloves; now they may be as ornate and as different from other people's gloves as you please. Among the most recent importations from Paris are perfumed gloves of a delicate shade of pink. They are short, but of course they are worn with the sleeveless or very short-sleeved frock.

Slippers seemingly are as ornate as gloves and there seems to be no disposition on the part of well-dressed women to abandon the slipper of silver or gold cloth. Of French origin is a Cinderella slipper of gold lame, embroidered in red and green and edged with rhinestones.

Rhinestones will apparently be used in as great profusion as ever and some of the little bags carried by well-dressed women are of moire with rhinestone clasps and bands.

The Constitution's Patterns

A SIMPLE POPULAR MODEL.

4471. This is a good style for gingham, printed voile, and other cotton goods now in vogue. The sleeve may be finished in wrist or elbow length. The pattern is cut in four sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. A 10-year size requires 3 1/8 yards of 27-inch material. For collar and cuffs of contrasting material 3/4 yard is required. Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

A POPULAR COMFORTABLE DRESS FOR THE GROWING GIRL.

4184. Linen, line, serge, tricolet, Lomespun and prunella would be good for this style. The sleeve may be in wrist or elbow length. The pattern is cut in four sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. To make the dress for a 12-year size, requires 3 1/2 yards of 44-inch material. Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

A PRETTY FROCK FOR THE LITTLE MISS.

4323. Figured percale and line may be combined for this model, or voile or batiste, embroidered as illustrated. The style is nice also for taffeta and crepe. The waist may be finished with the short sleeve, or the puff in peasant style be added, as shown in the smaller view. The pattern is cut in four sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. To make this dress for a 4-year size requires two yards of 36-inch material. Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

Miss Chisholm Will Lead Girl Scouts

Miss Corinne Chisholm, regional director of the Girl Scouts of the south will have charge of the scout activities at Piedmont park Monday, August 27, at 10 o'clock. Miss Chisholm was scheduled to be present Monday, August 20, but her engagement has been postponed one week.

Stunt Night At Camp Victor.

Miss Kate Buchanan will be in charge of the stunt night at Camp Victor Saturday night.

The season at Camp Victor, the summer home of the Young Women's Hebrew association, is at its height. Never before has the camp had such a splendid attendance. The camp is situated six miles from the center of Atlanta. A perfect automobile road leads directly into the camp or for those who travel by street car, the Victor Flyer (the bus) meets the car at the end of the Piedmont avenue line.

SAVANNAH GIRL HEROICALLY SAVES YOUTHS AT CAMP

Savannah, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—News reached Savannah today of the heroic work of Bettie Kelley, 13, who at Cedar Hammock, an out-of-the-way camping place, yesterday saved the lives of two large boys, Eugene Burkhalter and Cecil Auerbach, both older than herself, who were in the water at the bathing place at the country resort.

The little girl in a bateau saw the two boys go down for the second time and rushed to their aid. Both are today reported out of danger. The little heroine is a daughter of Mrs. Lawrence Kelley, of Savannah.

The HOUSEHOLD

Edited by Anne Rittenhouse
HOURS IN PREPARATION.

How many hours, half hours, quarter hours a day can you spare in the mere preparation of the food after you have bought it? This estimate should not include the table setting, dish washing or other labor of meal preparation that is not applied directly to the food itself.

One expert on household cookery estimates that three or four hours a day should be devoted to food preparation alone. Apparently this is necessary if generally acceptable dishes are to be made from the very cheapest cuts of meat and with the least expensive foods generally.

But you will find very often that when you spend a very long time in food preparation you are using expensive, rather than inexpensive foods.

Now here is a good rule to follow, if you are a busy housewife. Plan not have any too much time. Never spend more time in getting a dish ready than is necessary to make it wholesome and appetizing. If you have bought lamb chops, they are as good as they can be broiled with the minimum expense of time. The same thing applies to beefsteaks, leg of lamb, loin of lamb, loin of pork, and loin of beef. It is always foolish to make elaborate concoctions out of meat that may be plain broiled or roasted.

Most fruits are good, as they can be served "au naturel," and generally more wholesome than what is. Plain steamed fruits are also easy to prepare, and more wholesome than fruit puddings or fruits made into elaborate conserves.

When women cook for each other they are inclined to make elaborate, time-consuming dishes. For afternoon refreshments and luncheons you will find these dishes generally chosen. Apparently it seems like a compliment to a guest to make a dish that demands time and skill, even though the same food served plain would be just as palatable. And when women know that they are cooking for other women with a knowledge of how much time has been taken in preparation of these elaborate dishes, they are willing to expend the energy. Perhaps it is well worth while. But remember that most men have little means of appreciating these elaborate concoctions. Plain broiled or roasted meats are to them as good as croquettes, meat souffles, (Copyright, 1923, for The Constitution.)

Picnic at Grant Park.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hurley, of Ansley Park, entertained a group of little friends at a picnic supper party at Piedmont park Tuesday evening. Games and dancing were enjoyed by the young people. Mrs. M. D. Lynch, assisted Mr. and Mrs. Hurley in entertaining their guests. Those invited were Misses Margaret Mills, Caroline Berry, Emma Low Cole, Catherine Bodenheimer, Betty Gilmore and Anne and Charlotte Cundell.

COULD HARDLY DO ANY WORK

But Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound This Woman Feels So Well

Keeseeville, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly for the good it has done me. I was so much troubled with weakness I could hardly do any work. I saw your advertisement in the paper, and read it to my husband. He said, 'You had better try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,' so I bought six bottles, and by taking it I am not troubled as I was. I am gaining strength and getting fleshy. My female troubles have vanished and I have never felt so well. The Liver Pills are the best I ever took. If you think my letter will encourage other sufferers you have my permission to use it as an advertisement."—Mrs. SARAH BLAISE, Box 177, Keeseeville, N. Y.

Doing the housework for the average American family is some task, and many women lose their health in so doing. If you, as a housewife, are troubled with backache, irregularities, are easily tired out and irritable, or have other disagreeable ailments caused by some weakness, give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. Let it help you.

LEGION TO SPONSOR WORLD PEACE EFFORT

Indianapolis, Ind., August 17.—An international effort toward world peace on the part of allied world war veterans will be urged by American Legion officials, headed by National Commander Alvin Owsley, who will tomorrow from New York to attend the Brussels conference of the international veterans' federation, it was announced at legion national headquarters here today. The convention will be held September 1-5, and the whole of the delegation time, other than actual attendance at the meeting, will be occupied by official visits in England, Belgium and France.

The purpose of the organization with which the American veterans are affiliated is primarily for relief and care of war veterans. Resulting from this, a quest for solution of international difficulties, leading to world peace, has become prime consideration, according to the legion's announcement. At the convention held in New Orleans in 1922, simultaneously with that of the American Legion, the delegates voiced principles declaring for a world peace in a manifesto, which received an unqualified endorsement of the American Legion. One of the important clauses in the manifesto was a declaration for the establishment of a "world court" to "outlaw war."

The American delegation will present a complete agenda to the convention. Colonel H. Nelson Jackson, of Burlington, Vt., vice president of the international organization and chairman of the legion's committee, has supervised the collection of a large number of resolutions for presentation by the American Commander Owsley sent requests to many authorities on international affairs for expressions of opinion on practicability of the program, and almost without exception the conditions generally were approved, legion headquarters announced.

The expression received from the late President Harding was made public as follows:

"I have read with great interest and quite general approval, the policies set forth in the manifesto. I do not subscribe to unconditional agreement in every detail, but as a general enunciation of principle and purpose, the manifesto lays down a very wise and sound program, which gives great promise of promoting peace. I very much doubt if it will be practicable in a half century to try to come to have the United States fittingly represented in international councils without someone on the delegation who can speak for those who participated in actual warfare."

HOWARD IS NAMED JUDGE SUPERIOR COURT

Mr. Walker Friday afternoon the governor transmitted to him and proposition from Judge Howard, in which the latter proposed that Judge Howard be appointed judge for six months, at the expiration of which time he was to resign and allow Mr. Latham to be appointed.

Asked for Conference.

"I refused that offer, too," said Mr. Latham. "I offered to confront Judge Howard in the governor's office, with a court reporter present to take down what was said, and repeat my charges. Governor Walker would not agree to this. He admitted that the matter was not settled, and I would be elected and not Judge Howard."

Continuing, Mr. Latham said, "I

Teacher To Try 100-Mile Crawl To Prove Poem

Lincoln, Neb., August 17.—Professor T. T. House, of the Nebraska State Normal school, plans to crawl 100 miles on his hands and knees, without food, just to show his English class of skeptical young women that it can be done.

The girls didn't believe the professor when he said that "The Story of Hugh Glass," a poem by John G. Neihardt, Nebraska's poet laureate, was founded on actual fact, and they told him so.

Glass was a trapper and hunter in the Black Hills. In 1823 he was badly mugged by a grizzly bear and was left alone to die by a companion, who became fearful.

Whereat, Glass, although hampered by a broken leg and other wounds, crawled 100 miles through the rough wilderness to a frontier fort, taking days for the journey and living on such roots and berries as he could find. The Neihardt club, of which Professor House is president, recently journeyed to the spot whence he started and erected a rock monument there.

The professor isn't going to break his leg for the experiment, but "Some of the students and others I have met," he declared, "say that story is poetic legendry. I propose to prove it can be done. I am not as good physical condition as Glass, but he was sixty when he did it and I am only fifty."

"I am going to take ginseng training for the next six or eight months and will try next summer. I will tie up one leg to make the conditions correspond to those of Glass, and will depend on such food and water as I can find on the way."

Professor House says he will not carry a knife or gun, as Glass crawled without these aids.

Permanent Endowment For Valparaiso Is Plan Of Klan in Indiana

Valparaiso, Ind., August 17.—Consideration was being given today to a plan for the raising of a permanent endowment fund for Valparaiso university which has been purchased by the Ku Klux Klan, Milton Elrod, editor of the Elery Cross, official organ of the Klan in Indiana said today. Although the university will be governed by a board of trustees appointed by the Klan, the university will be strictly non-sectarian, Mr. Elrod said, as has been the policy of the school in the past, negroes, he asserted, will not be admitted.

Mr. Elrod denied that the name of the university will be changed to have been the impression. This impression, he said, probably came from the fact that the university is being taken over by the national organization of the Klan, although the details of the purchase have been handled by the state organization.

Whether Dr. Horace M. Evans, president of the university, will be continued in that capacity, will be up to the board of trustees to be appointed by the Klan. As soon as the technical argument is signed, probably today, five of the present members of the board of trustees will resign and five new members from the state Klan will be elected by majority vote to elect an entirely new board, Mr. Elrod said.

One of Chattooga Prisoners Caught, Three Still at Large

Summerville, Ga., August 17.—(Special.)—Paul Worley, who escaped from the Chattooga county jail here Saturday night, along with three other prisoners, has been brought back here and is again behind the bars, having been arrested Wednesday afternoon at White, Ga., near Cartersville, by Deputy Sheriff S. W. Favors, of this county.

Worley, according to information reaching here, was in Chickamauga, Ga., Monday. Close on his heels was Deputy Sheriff Favors, who, after learning that Worley had relatives in the vicinity of White, left for that place, believing the fugitive would go there. He was promptly arrested and started back to Summerville.

Worley was charged with burglary, it being alleged he broke in the Trion garage at Trion a short time ago. Although the other three prisoners who escaped have not been apprehended, Sheriff Thomason is of the opinion that they will be arrested shortly. Worley's Lemons were being held for trial at the September term of superior court on a charge of burglarizing Martin's store at Chelsea.

MRS. HARDING LEAVES WHITE HOUSE FRIDAY

Washington, August 17.—Quietly and almost unnoticed, Mrs. Florence Kling Harding tonight left the white house, never to return except possibly as a guest.

None of the crowds, none of the cheers, and none of the pleasurable anticipation that marked her arrival at the executive mansion on March 4, 1921, attended her departure this evening on a rainy night. The contrast was so noticeable that those who accompanied her away were plainly moved, but Mrs. Harding herself, whatever may have been her inner emotions, walked out of the door, across the portico and into the waiting automobile as if it were a matter of course.

She drove away, and from it stepped Mrs. Coolidge, the new first lady of the land. She passed within the mansion and it was half an hour later and almost dark before there was another sign of activity.

Two secret service men, the one who has been assigned to Mrs. Harding from the time her late husband was elected president and the one devoted to Mrs. Coolidge, came out, and then Major Ora M. Baldinger, the military aide to the president, who was selected by Mrs. Harding for the post because he had been one of the newsmen when she had charge of the circulation department of the Marion Star.

Dressed in mourning but without a veil, Mrs. Harding stepped out followed by Mrs. Coolidge and George B. Christian, Jr., secretary to the late president. Without glancing back and with only one glance to the side at the edge of Washington, she watched her departure, she walked with firm step to the automobile, who after assisting Mrs. Coolidge into the car, stepped inside himself.

Meantime, Miss Laura Harlan, secretary to Mrs. Harding, and Miss Ruth Pooley, who was Mrs. Harding's nurse during her illness a year ago and was nurse to Mr. Harding in his fatal illness, had gotten into the second car.

Then without a word from anyone the automobile moved down the gravel driveway, out one of the north gates and out into Pennsylvania avenue.

Mrs. Harding went to "Friendship," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Latta, on the edge of Washington. There she expects to stay probably ten days or two weeks before going to Marion to attend to the settlement of the late president's estate.

Although the white house is in readiness for them, President and Mrs. Coolidge do not expect to take up their residence there before the middle of next week.

AMERICA WILL GET MONOPOLY ON CURE

Berlin, August 17.—The claim that the newly discovered tuberculosis remedy has cured 80 per cent of cases treated is advanced by Professor Johann Von Weninger, Berlin physician.

He is sailing shortly for New York to sign a contract with an American firm for a world wide monopoly for his cure, which consists of treatment of tracheum and chorion maceduro, the latter being extracted from a South American plant long used in fever cases.

More than half of all travelers who visit the first-class hotels of Switzerland are Americans.

Jewels and Hubby Disappear; Bride Seeks Police Aid

London, August 17.—Alexander Gordon, "whirlwind lover," has disappeared—leaving his American bride of a week heartbroken here.

Scotland Yard detectives Friday inaugurated a continent-wide search for the dashing cavalier who won Mrs. Alice Sheddin, attractive and wealthy New York matron, after a speedy courtship. He dropped out of sight Thursday. It is said, with $6,000 worth of his bride's jewelry and $200 of her cash.

Mrs. Gordon, in tears, told the story of her broken romance to Scotland Yard officials, and instructed them to begin the man hunt. She has since remained confined to her room.

Gordon is believed to have left for Paris and officials are switching all channel ports and making inquiries at Deauville and other resorts to which he may have gone.

Mrs. Gordon is 38 years old, the daughter of the late William Henry Kearney, a wealthy American tea importer.

Mrs. Sheddin left New York for Europe in July, and met Gordon, who is 37 years old, in Berlin. He claimed to be an American journalist, and spun romantic tales of vivid adventures in strange lands. A whirlwind romance followed. Gordon proposed marriage in Berlin, followed Mrs. Sheddin to London and proposed again. They were married here on August 8. In the marriage register Gordon described himself as a bachelor, and a broker, giving New York city as his home address.

After the marriage, Gordon and his bride lived at the exclusive Savoy hotel. He repeatedly postponed the projected honeymoon, she claims, and Thursday disappeared.

Mrs. Gordon reports that he took a number of rings and brooches, and also a diamond necklace which she had entrusted to his care. The jewels are said to be worth $6,000, and she reports he also took $200 in British money she had loaned him.

THE GUMPS—HONOR—WHERE HONOR IS DUE

The Lady of North Star

BY OTTWEIL BINNS

Next Week, "The Soul Scar."
By Beldon Duff

"Do you think he can recover from his sickness?"

"I am afraid not," replied Roger. "He might have made good, even yet, if he were not so sick," said Joy.

"Perhaps he is making good," replied the corporal gently.

There was a sudden increase of clamor behind them. Distant yells were sounding, and the two rifles were firing in rapid succession. For perhaps a minute and a half this went on, then came silence, followed by a single shot, and that again by a silence which remained unbroken.

Corporal Bracknell stopped irresolutely.

"What do you think? Joy whispered."

"I think it is the end one way or the other, was the reply. The last yell sounded as if the Indians were charging. In that case, unless the rush was stopped—

"Dick and your man are dead?" "Something of that kind, I think I must go back and learn what has happened. I simply can't desert them without knowing what has befallen them. You keep right on until you reach the main river—I will not be longer than necessary."

"We shall wait at the fork," she answered quickly.

"But—"

"We shall wait," she repeated resolutely, and taking a rifle from one of the sleds, she handed it to him.

He went swiftly and after traveling half an hour, caught sight of a lumpy shadow coming down the river. The shadow grew nearer, and then he perceived that it was made up of two men, one riding on the back of the other. At the same time he caught the sound of a protesting voice.

"It's not worth while, old horse. Put me down and quit!"

A moment later Roger Bracknell was running towards them.

"Where . . . where . . . are the girls . . .?" asked Joy.

"They are all right. They are well in front."

"Good!" There was a note of relief in Dick Bracknell's voice, as he spoke, then he gave a little laugh. "Behold the victor! Roger, my son, it was topping. We stood a charge and . . . and cleared the board. It was gorgeous."

He laughed weakly, and his cousin looked at him anxiously.

"But you are hurt, Dick, old man!"

"Plugged . . . with an arrow . . . in the ribs. Sibou's all right, though. I'd like to see Joy before—"

"You shall, if it's to be done," said his cousin as the other's voice broke.

"I'll take turns with Sibou."

On the way Dick told Roger the purpose of Joy's journey. After a weary march, they reached the fork and a figure ran toward them. It was Joy.

"You are all here? She cried.

"Safe?"

"Dick is wounded," Roger answered.

"I am afraid it is serious."

She had turned to the wounded man, and was talking to him in a low voice.

Roger moved away. He did not know what she was saying, but he had no wish to know, but half an hour later, as his cousin lay by a fire which had been lit, he saw his eyes were shining with a quiet happiness.

"Better, Dick?" he inquired.

"In soul, yes!" was the answer.

"I'm glad of that," replied the corporal simply.

"It's like a cleansing to have a good woman's approval. You can't know, Roger, old boy. You haven't been deep in the mire—there it is."

In the dusk that night Roger and Joy discussed the attack on Dick's cabin.

"You have suspicions, Miss Gargrave. Tell me exactly what you think."

"I will," she broke out impulsively. "God forgive me if I do him wrong! I think my cousin Adrian was responsible—Mr. Rayner, you know, whom you met at North Star."

"I think you are right!" he answered slowly. "We must be very careful. If there is real warrant for our suspicions, then Adrian Rayner will be a very desperate man."

"I am sure of that," she interjected impulsively. "I felt it, when he left North Star on our arrival. I ordered him away, and as soon as I could I came to look for you—"

"It was good of you to be so anxious for my welfare," he broke in quickly.

"That was but natural," she said quietly. "You were working for me, and when I knew that a danger unknown to you threatened you, I felt that I must make you aware of it."

"And if we can only meet Adrian Rayner we shall be able to prove or disprove all that we suspect," he said.

"You and Babette and myself know him, and Sibou knows the man who was responsible for your father's death. If Adrian Rayner and he should prove to be the same, then the matter will be beyond dispute."

When the next day dawned, Dick Bracknell was in no condition to travel. He was clearly much weaker, and at times he lapsed into delirium, during which the hearts of two of those with him were wrung.

Joy did not love him, but there was a great pity in her heart for the warward man.

At the outer edge of the camp Roger met Sibou. The latter waved a hand towards the river, on the frozen surface of which tiny streams of water were beginning to run.

"It is the spring," he said. "If we do not leave today the ice may not hold."

"We cannot leave today, Sibou."

"No," replied the Indian. "We wait for death. Is it not so?"

"It is so!" agreed the corporal.

"And tomorrow comes the spring and new life," said the Indian thoughtfully. "The woman nurses the man who dies, what is she to him?"

"But she loves him not! I have seen the light in her eyes." He broke off abruptly. "But the spring comes, and with the spring comes life and the kindling of the heart."

Roger asked abruptly, "How long will the ice hold, Sibou?"

"That is not to be told," Sibou pointed across the river to where a tributary flowed into the river. "The water comes down there and adds to the strength of this. It may break the ice here, and spread over the surface."

Listen.

The corporal listened. The air was full of an indescribable sound, a moaning and growling, quite different from the sound of the soft wind in the trees.

There came a sudden crash far out in front, and the next moment a gaping fissure showed in the ice.

"That is the first, and there will be others," shouted the Indian. "The break up has come! The spring has arrived!"

A cry from the camp startled them, and the next moment happened, the white man began to run. When he reached the fire he found Joy, and as their eyes met, she answered the question in his mind.

"Yes," she said, "a moment ago. He knew me again at the last."

With the help of Sibou he bent a couple of young spruces, that his cousin's body might have the aerial sepulchre practised by the northern tribes.

Just an hour later the dead man was lashed to the young trees, which were released, carrying the body high in the air. Such portions of the burial service as Roger could remember, was recited.

"We will start in an hour, if you like," he said later. "The ice is not very good, but it will be worse tomorrow, and we can get some way towards Chief Louis' camp. Once there, ice or no ice will not matter. We shall be able to get canoees."

"Yes," she said, "Yes, in an hour. There is no reason why we should linger here now."

They started before the hour was out, and travelled hard until the edge of dark. In the night the corporal was awakened by a crash and in the morning he knew that sled-travelling was over. A stream of water was flowing on the surface of the ice. Something caught Sibou's keen eyes. Something moving. He pointed it out to Bracknell.

"There is a man there. He is coming this way."

"He will never get across," commented Bracknell, "and we cannot warn him. He will have to return."

"He walks strangely," commented Sibou.

The man seemed to be making an erratic course, and more than once just started a fissure.

Suddenly Sibou started.

"The man is blind," he said. "See how he walks, hands in front groping for the way. He did not see the ice."

The stranger, whoever he was, stumbled over a cake of ice thrown out on the surface, and as he picked himself up, he took his next step into a stream running fast over the yielding surface. He withdrew the foot instantly and half turned to try another course.

"It is the snow-blindness," said Sibou. "He cannot see. He only feels, and there is danger everywhere for him."

"Oh," cried Joy, "can nothing be done?"

"Something can be tried," answered the corporal.

Sibou and he moved towards the blinded man in imminent risk of their lives. A providence seemed to watch over the man. He had turned again and now was running towards them. They were but fifteen yards apart, when suddenly Sibou gripped his companion's arm.

"Behold!" he said quickly. "The man who was with me when the trail was blown up before Mr. Gargrave."

Roger Bracknell also stood still, and looked at the figure shambling towards them. There was a distraught look on the man's face, a madness of fear that convulsed it, but in spite of that, Roger Bracknell recognized it. It was the face of Adrian Rayner.

The ice parted, and a little lane of light appeared between them to where the broken floes were grinding each other in the waters which had engulfed the guilty man.

"Look out, Rayner! For God's sake, look out!" Rayner gave a great cry of fear, and began to run away from the bank. He ran only a little way. A stretch of open water appeared in the line he followed, and unconscious of its existence, he dashed straight into it. They saw the plunge, and watched painfully. There was no further sign of him.

As they gained it, the corporal saw a look of horror on Joy Gargrave's face.

"You recognized him?" she asked.

"Sibou recognized him first," replied the corporal meaningly.

"Sibou! Oh, I remember. Then Adrian as with the man responsible for my father's death?"

Joy nodded, and looked once more at the broken floes were grinding each other in the waters which had engulfed the guilty man.

"It is the judgment of God."

It was five and a half months later when Roger Bracknell, fresh from England, walked up the road from the river leading to North Star lodge. There was a touch of frost in the air, his gaze was fixed on the place where the road turned, eagerly expecting, and from behind came the voyagers' song as his men unpacked the boat.

"What is there like to the laughing stars?"

Far up from the lilac tree? A face that's brighter and finer far, It laughs and it shines, ci, ci—

The hunk of geese overhead for a moment drowned the words, but they reached him again a moment later. "Till I go forth and bring it home, And house it within my door—"

How long, row along home, ci, ci! Then he turned the corner of the road. A girl was hurrying between the long lines of trees. It was Joy Gargrave. There was no laughter on her face, but the blood was warm in it, and her eyes were shining.

"Oh, my dear!" she said, half sobbing with gladness as he took her in his arms.

"At last," he whispered, the together they turned and walked towards the lodge.

"I think I had better tell you some bad news at once," said Roger, "and dismiss the unpleasantness once and for all. . . . I told Sir Joseph Rayner of his son's death, without telling him all that lay behind it. He seemed to regard it as in some way a confession to me."

"A confession!" Joy stopped and looked at him with eyes that were wide with fear. "You do not mean that he knew Adrian intended—"

"He knew nothing. Even now he does not know that your father's death was anything but accidental. The confession he made had to do with his financial affairs. It appears that he had speculated rashly, that his affairs have become very much involved, and that absolute control of your money was needed to save him."

"I gave it!" cried Joy.

"Yes! and it did save him. Some of his ventures turned out very well, after all, but that matters nothing now. Adrian was the apple of his eye. When we go to England—"

"When will that be?" interrupted Joy.

Roger Bracknell smiled. "There is no hurry. I thought I might winter up here—that is, if you are agreeable."

She looked at him reproachfully. "You know—"

"Wait! You have not heard everything. Jo! Down the river I passed the missionary priest, Father Doherty. I ventured to persuade him to break the journey at the lodge, and he agreed to do so. It was very audacious of me—"

"Why should it be audacious? Travelers are always welcome at North Star."

"Well," he answered smilingly, "he is a priest, you know."

The Greatest Power

PRAYER THAT WORKS

(The following is issued by the committee on church co-operation.)

Seven thousand persons have professed their belief in our Lord and Savior. Six thousand have testified that they have been healed of physical sickness by the power of Christ.

This is the report made to the committee on church co-operation of the results of the meetings, during the last three weeks under the leadership of R. T. Richey in Atlanta's auditorium.

The committee voted to write, expressing the committee's thanks to Mr. Richey for his work in our midst.

A subcommittee of five was also appointed to follow up and investigate the reported cases of healing. This latter action was taken not because the committee doubts that persons have been healed at the meetings. As a matter of fact, the report of results was made to the committee by one of its own members, who himself had had his hearing restored.

A notable miracle.

Therefore, the committee is not in the attitude of that gathering of church representatives, the Sanhedrin of long ago, who, facing the healing of the lame man at the beautiful gate of Jerusalem's temple, said of Peter and John, who had brought to the man the healing touch of the risen Christ, whom the Sanhedrin had crucified:

"What shall we do to these men? For that indeed, a notable miracle hath been done by them in manifest to all men, that they have healed the lame man, and we cannot deny it. But that it spread no further among the people, let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name."

Even a member of the hostile Sanhedrin, Gamaliel, advised:

"Refrain from these men, and let them alone; for if they are counted or would be of men, it will come to naught; but if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found to fight against God."

Not to deny, nor to disprove, nor to oppose the preaching of the healing power of Christ, but to get the facts as to these reported cures in Atlanta, is the purpose of this subcommittee.

It is also hoped that out of the investigation may come suggestions which may tend to safeguard the handling of the truth undoubtedly taught by Jesus, that people may be cured by the power of faith and prayer in His name. For incalculable harm and suffering may come to some hearing of this power, if they fail to learn and remember other truths which Jesus just as clearly taught by His words, life, crucifixion and resurrection, with reference to prayer.

willings to base our lives upon the practice of the golden rule and the use of the power of prayer?

If so, great days are ahead for Atlanta.

But if we are unwilling to go the full length for the other fellow, we have no right to count upon the power of prayer.

The most refreshing thing about the Richey meetings was the insistence of the leader that none had the right to ask God for a blessing without first surrendering self to God. The most important thing about those meetings was that great number who in them found a friend in Jesus.

Many of these may have been church members grasping at the truth. Whoever they are, let's gather them into our churches, and with them go forward, depending upon prayer for our power to practice that golden rule.

Our Prayer.

In the words written by Samuel McComb, let's pray to our Father in heaven, saying:

"When strengthened and refreshed by Thy goodness, we return to the life of love, send us forth as servants of Jesus Christ in the service and redemption of the world. Send us to the hearts without love, to men and women burdened with heavy cares, to the sick and the suffering, the sad, the broken-hearted."

"Send us to the children whose heritage has been a curse; to the poor, who doubt Thy providence; to the all that dwell on earth, that we may not deny it. But that it spread no further among the people, let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name."

Even a member of the hostile Sanhedrin, Gamaliel, advised:

"Refrain from these men, and let them alone; for if they are counted or would be of men, it will come to naught; but if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found to fight against God."

Not to deny, nor to disprove, nor to oppose the preaching of the healing power of Christ, but to get the facts as to these reported cures in Atlanta, is the purpose of this subcommittee.

It is also hoped that out of the investigation may come suggestions which may tend to safeguard the handling of the truth undoubtedly taught by Jesus, that people may be cured by the power of faith and prayer in His name. For incalculable harm and suffering may come to some hearing of this power, if they fail to learn and remember other truths which Jesus just as clearly taught by His words, life, crucifixion and resurrection, with reference to prayer.

Doctors and Medicine.

Not once did Jesus suggest that the sick should not call a physician. One of His greatest followers, who wrote a matchless biography of Him, was Luke, known as the "beloved physician." And today in Atlanta and throughout the world, there are physicians without number, followers of Christ, whose lives and medical and surgical knowledge and skill are being used of God in helping and healing His children.

Neither did Jesus anywhere hint that we should not use the material things which the physician's material and study have discovered, in curing our ills. On the contrary, He Himself, used material things in healing the blind. With bread that was real He nourished the bodies of the multitudes, even while He broke for them the bread of life. And Paul, possibly advised by Dr. Luke, wrote Timothy to take something for his ailing stomach.

Use God's Gifts.

The surgeon's skill and the material things which the physician and scientist have found to be helpful to the health of mankind, are gifts of God as much as the gift of God as was the manna upon which Israel fed. And not to use this skill and material, with prayer and thanksgiving, in curing our ills, is to be foolish and ungodly, as it would be for a man to starve to death, when he has the means to buy, and there is a grocery store just across the street.

But, above all, Jesus taught that, when we pray, we should say to our Father in heaven:

"Thy will be done."

Not all who are treated by the physician are cured. Not all of the sick, for whom prayers are offered by the most sincere, consecrated and trusting followers of Jesus are healed and saved from suffering and death. Our Father has some better thing than physical healing in store for them, when He does not give them health in answer to prayer. Remember Jesus in Gethsemane. He prayed:

"Whether, therefore, are possible unto Thee: take away this cup from me; nevertheless, not what I will, but what Thou wilt."

Yet the bitter cup was not removed. But strength to endure came to Him. "Who, for the joy that was set before Him, endured the cross, despising the shame."

Therefore, when we pray that "the cup" be taken away from the lips of our loved ones, or from our own, let us remember the experience of Jesus. If that cup had been taken from His lips, there would have been neither resurrection morn nor risen Lord for us.

God Answers Prayer.

Our Father, who answers every prayer, will answer, not according to our desires, if our desires be mistaken or unwise, but as Christ's compassionate love, illumined by infinite wisdom and His tender care for all of God's children, knows to be best for us.

Jesus said:

"Ask and it shall be given you; seek and ye shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you."

"For everyone that asketh receiveth, and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened."

"Or what man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone? Or if he ask an egg, will he give him a serpent?"

"If ye then being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more shall your Father who is in heaven give good things unto them that ask them?"

"Therefore, all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, even so do ye to them; for this is the law and the prophets."

Remember the words, "a good thing asked you for a favor, and you would not give it. Neither will your heavenly Father give you anything that will harm you, however earnest may be your prayer for it." And you may confidently count on His giving that which is for your good.

Working Through Men.

Since this is true, by "therefore" and the words which follow, Jesus bids you to do, and for every man, as you would have every man to do, and for you. This Christ's golden rule. He has upon God's will to answer prayer. You may be God's means of answering prayer for others.

Thousands in Atlanta have been recently stirred to the depths by Mr. Richey's teachings concerning the power of prayer. Many other thousands have long professed their belief in their membership in our churches. These church members and the 7,000 who, at the meetings in the auditorium, took a stand for Jesus, have offered themselves to follow His teachings.

Are these thousands and all of us kindness of our gifts, may we make a way for the inflow of Thy love unto needy and loveless ones."

With such a prayer upon the lips and in the lives of all who bear the name of Christian in Atlanta, we should witness a revival which would shake the world.

EVANGELISTIC

EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN

At tent meetings in Brooklyn, New York, in August and September last year, upon several occasions the number of seekers for salvation or healing was from thirteen hundred to fifteen hundred, or more than one-third of the entire audience of four thousand persons. Large numbers of people were converted. As many as 145 persons were immersed at a single service in the baptistry placed in the tent. Many were healed through the preaching of the gospel from cancers, tumors, paralysis, tuberculosis, rheumatism, blindness, goitres, deafness, and diseases of every kind. This has been the case in all campaigns and often the largest halls have been too small to accommodate the crowds who have attended the Bosworth meetings.

"Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases." Psalm 103:3. How sinners may be forgiven and how the sick may be healed are made equally plain by the preaching of Evangelist Bosworth. Thousands have been converted and thousands have also been healed of diseases in the campaigns of the last three years. In Lima, Ohio; Pittsburgh, Detroit, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Toronto, Chicago, Toledo, Flint, Miami, Fla.; Erie, Syracuse, Brooklyn, Jersey City, New York City, and Bridgeport, Conn.

Commencing Sunday, August 19th at 11 A. M.

EVANGELIST F. F. BOSWORTH,
(Evangelist of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, member of the Interdenominational Evangelistic Association and of the International Federation of Christian Workers) will conduct a campaign under the auspices of the Gospel Tabernacle of the Christian and Missionary Alliance at 79 Capitol Ave.

ROMAN MAY DIE OF AUTO INJURIES

BY THOMAS J. BRYSON,
Constitution Bureau
Masonic Temple Annex.
Rome, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) W. Press Perry, who was struck by an automobile in East Rome this morning, is reported in a very serious condition at a local hospital tonight. He is suffering from a fractured skull, concussion of the brain, a badly shattered nose and possibly internal injuries. There is said to be little, if any, improvement in his condition. He was struck by an automobile driven by E. B. Reynolds, of Chatsahoochee, who travels for a Nashville firm. According to Reynolds and a street car conductor, who saw the accident, Perry was in the act of throwing a switch for the street car which was standing on Maple street. Reynolds blew his horn, and thought until he was almost upon him that Perry would move. This, however, he failed to do and was hit by the car which was making about 15 miles per hour.

Massey Gets Life.

Rome, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) Will Massey, a white man who has been under death sentence since his trial in July for the murder of Robert Grammer, another white man, this afternoon was granted a new trial by Judge Moses Wright, entered a consent plea of guilty, and was sentenced to life imprisonment. The crime for which Massey was found guilty was committed just before the July term of the superior court. He was without legal representation when his case was called and the counsel appointed to defend him had little time in which to prepare the case. It appeared at the trial, Judge Wright states, that Massey was not normal mentally. Since that time his attorneys have secured many affidavits that he is not mentally responsible. It was in view of these facts that the new trial was granted and the consent verdict taken. Massey was sentenced to hang early in September.

Negro Bandit Caught.

Rome, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) Caught in the act entering a North Georgia residence, Norman Battle, a negro, this afternoon held off would-be captured at the point of a pistol and made good his escape. A call to police headquarters brought an auto load of officers and the negro best a hasty retreat from the vicinity. He was not captured until he had reached Bourbon, five miles north of this city.

Legion Makes Plans.

Rome, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) Members of the local post of the American Legion tonight appointed a committee to work out details of the Legion's part in looking after Confederate veterans at the state reunion here in September. Another committee was chosen to confer with representatives of the city council and the woman's club as to the location of the world war memorial, which the Legion plans for the memorial plot in the city cemetery.

Summerville Court.

Rome, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) Judge Moses Wright leaves Monday morning for Summerville, where he will hold a three weeks session of superior court. He goes from Summerville to LaFayette where court will hold for one week only.

Graham Returns.

Rome, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) John M. Graham, secretary of local Y. M. C. A., returned today from Lake Junaluska, N. C., where he represented the Rome district at the activities conference of the Y. M. C. A. church, south. Addresses by Dr. McConnell, of Chicago, of the "Bible Church" and by J. S. Wilson, of Berkeley, Cal., on "The Social, Political and Economic Teachings of Jesus Christ" featured the five-day session, Mr. Graham states.

Cotton Is Threatened.

Rome, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) Floyd county's cotton crop is in danger of almost complete annihilation from combined attacks of the boll weevil and the cotton-leaf worm, according to advices received from different parts of the county by County Farm Demons. For Mr. Crites is planning to have dogwoods planted along every resident street of the city this fall. The dogwood is not only a most excellent shade tree, Mr. Crites says, but if Rome will specialize on them, it will make her unique among the cities of the nation as not one has ever become famous for her dogwoods. Hence his desire to have this known as "dogwood center" of Georgia—at least.

The chamber of commerce along with its other plans for its winter campaign is expecting to cooperate actively with the women's clubs of the city in the establishment and equipment of a play ground in every ward in the city. The promoters of the move hope to have the playgrounds in shape for use next summer.

Halt Poultry Shipments.
Rome, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) Floyd county farmers are shipping no more chickens now—nor are there being contemplated more cooperative poultry sales in the immediate future for the reason that chickens, especially fliers—are bringing too good prices here for farmers to be tempted to ship them.

Floyd's only cooperative poultry sale, which was held here in June, was one of the most successful initial sales ever held in Georgia. Close to 8,000 pounds of poultry were shipped in the car. County Agent Collins, who promoted the sale, was enthusiastic over the prospect of having another in the near future. He has been advising farmers against this for weeks past; however, pointing out to them that poultry is bringing 125 per cent in Rome as can be obtained almost anywhere else. Other cooperative sales will be held in the late fall, however, it is said.

Pasture Demonstration.
Rome, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) Experts from both the federal department of agriculture and from the State College of Agriculture will be in Rome on August 24 to take part in a pasture demonstration which will be held on the farm of S. Holmes Smith, near Rome.

The Smith farm is located about half-way between Rome and Cave Spring and as the farm bureau is to hold its annual picnic at Cave Spring on August 24 to take part in a pasture demonstration which will be held on the farm of S. Holmes Smith, near Rome.

Several southern railroads that have interested themselves in the agricultural development of Georgia will also have representatives at the demonstration, it is announced.

Melons Sell Good.
Rome, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) Watermelons are bringing record prices in Rome today.

Ordinarily worth from 15 to 30¢ at most at this time of year, 30-pound melons are now selling on the streets of this city for as high as 75¢.

So good are local prices and so strong the demand, that there is no effort being made to find outside markets.

For the first time in years, Floyd county has paraded watermelons in commercial quantities, and there will be upwards of a half-dozen cars ready for shipment within the next week, it is stated. If the present local demand continues, however, there is said to be considerable doubt as to any shipments being made as Rome can probably absorb the entire county supply.

Lunacy Hearing.
Rome, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) Hearing on a writ of lunacy will be had tomorrow for Walter Adkins, a negro, who yesterday afternoon testified a portion of a negro section of the city by the indiscriminate firing of a shotgun.

For a few minutes, Adkins had all of his race taking to the tall nut but although he did damage. He was taken in charge by officers who rushed to the scene, expecting trouble.

"The Dogwood City."
Rome, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) "The Dogwood City" is a slogan that this city may adopt in the near future if plans of Secretary Crites, of the local chamber of commerce, go through. For Mr. Crites is planning to have dogwoods planted along every resident street of the city this fall.

The dogwood is not only a most excellent shade tree, Mr. Crites says, but if Rome will specialize on them, it will make her unique among the cities of the nation as not one has ever become famous for her dogwoods. Hence his desire to have this known as "dogwood center" of Georgia—at least.

Ordinarily worth from 15 to 30¢ at most at this time of year, 30-pound melons are now selling on the streets of this city for as high as 75¢.

So good are local prices and so strong the demand, that there is no effort being made to find outside markets.

For the first time in years, Floyd county has paraded watermelons in commercial quantities, and there will be upwards of a half-dozen cars ready for shipment within the next week, it is stated. If the present local demand continues, however, there is said to be considerable doubt as to any shipments being made as Rome can probably absorb the entire county supply.

Lunacy Hearing.
Rome, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) Hearing on a writ of lunacy will be had tomorrow for Walter Adkins, a negro, who yesterday afternoon testified a portion of a negro section of the city by the indiscriminate firing of a shotgun.

For a few minutes, Adkins had all of his race taking to the tall nut but although he did damage. He was taken in charge by officers who rushed to the scene, expecting trouble.

Require Heavy Bonds of Liquor Raid Defendants
Savannah, August 18.—(Special.) Further proof of the earnestness of government officials to break the so-called "whisky ring" in this city, is gathered from the heavy bonds assessed on a number of prominent citizens arrested by officials in a series of raids. Government agents are taking no chances on bondsmen either, making the criminal service will be conducted at the tent on Gordon street, in West View. Bible study at 9:45 a. m. South Pryor—Rev. W. Don Hoekaday, minister. Services at 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m.

Girls Enjoy Camp.
Cedarhurst, Ga., August 17.—(Special.) Miss Alice Drake, home demonstration agent, has taken her girls to the camp at Benedict's. This will be known as the Pulk county short course for girls when they will be taught cooking, sewing and basket making. Miss Drake has assisting her Miss Lucile Turner, of the state college; Miss Jeroline Thompson, of Dalton; Miss Moina Shackelford, of Calhoun, and Miss Gussie Burton, of Rome.

would have to get another bondsmen, but he didn't.
Bradley "loosened up" on the information of who was living on the farm, the information completing a case lying dormant in the district attorney's office for some time because the lessee of the farm was not positively known.
This case therefore comes to trial in November along with the rest, but Bradley will most likely be rid of the charge against him when the preliminary hearing is held before the United States commissioner next week. The amount of whisky found on Rockingham farm last year was 300 cases.

The United States grand jury adjourned today until Monday morning at 11 o'clock, when it will resume its duties. Many witnesses were examined by that body, not all of the matters being tried in full.

On Monday will begin trials of some of those recently apprehended, though none of the "big guns" will be tried. The docket has not yet been completed.
